EAST LANSING — (AP)—Michigan State College had to return money sent for 11,200 tickets for the Notre Dame football game, said today.

Because of the demand for Notre Dame tickets this year, all applications for individual tickets were thrown into a "blind draw" or lottery.

College check-writing machines were tied up for three days when ticket officials started returning money to the unlucky applicants.

Burt said his biggest headache was getting people to understand that there just are not 50,000 tickets — the stadium capacity — available for general sale.

For the Notre Dame game, he said, some 37,000 were obligated before sale began. The distribution included 12,000 season tickets, 14,000 for MSC students, 1,000 for Notre Dame, 1,800 for MSC faculty and 1,200 for players, coaches, varsity alumni and college guests.

This left 12,000 to 13,000 tickets available for the general public.

Missing Fruit Farmer Found

PONTIAC, Mich.—Howard McCracken, 46, Farmington fruit farmer who disappeared mysteriously more than five months ago, is home again.

Described as a victim of amnesia, McCracken turned up in Milwaukee after reportedly having made futile efforts to recollect his identity.

Previously, he was said to have been in Omaha, Neb., working at various jobs.

He was in seclusion at the house in his 130-acre farm today. Police, however, were preparing to arrange for questioning him.

McCracken's wife, Eleanor, said he and a brother-in-law, Donald McCracken of Pontiac, went to Milwaukee Monday night in response to a telephone call from the missing man.

They brought him home, but Mrs. McCracken said that even when her husband was not sure of his identity, nor did he remember or their farm.

"If you say I'm Howard McCracken, I guess I am," the wife quoted him as saying.

McCracken disappeared in Detroit Feb. 26. He had gone to Detroit to market a truckload of apples.

His abandoned truck was found in the eastern market in Detroit.

Illinois Paper Bans Lying Saucer Yarns

OTTAWA, Ill. — (AP)—A ban on "Flying Saucer" stories has been announced by the Ottawa Daily Republican-Times.

In an editorial printed Wednesday, managing editor Herbert Ames told the paper's 12,000 subscribers: "We're not printing any more."

"We've chosen sides. And we invite the 1,700 other daily newspapers in the nation to join in a fight against feeding pap to the newspaper reading public," the editorial said.

Stevenson Gets More Solid Party Support Than Truman Received

(By The Associated Press)

There were new signs today (Thursday) the Democratic party is uniting far more solidly behind Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson than it did behind President Truman.

Sen. Richard E. Russell of Georgia, one of the losers in the race for the nomination prize won by Stevenson, said the Illinois governor will be elected president "by one of the largest majorities any man ever had."

No Dixie Revolt

Russell, after a talk with Stevenson yesterday, predicted the governor will carry the entire south. He said he saw no indication of a Dixie revolt like the one that split the party in 1948.

South Carolina joined the growing list of southern states backing Stevenson yesterday. Earlier in the week Georgia's Democratic executive committee pledged its electors to the governor, and Mississippi State Rights Democrats failed to win control of the party machinery — a good sign for Stevenson.

Only Texas remains a question mark in the solid south. Gov. Allan Shivers said Texas could go either Democratic or Republican. He said much depends on how Stevenson feels about the tidelands oil issue.

Eisenhower Keeps Busy

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, continued building unity in his own party. He booked conferences today with two more pre-convention supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

They were Gov. Len B. Jordan of Idaho and George T. Hansen, the party's national committeeman from Utah.

The general's headquarters reportedly was cheered by developments pointing to party unity — particularly by signs that bitterness in Ohio was fading.

Even while mending party fences, Eisenhower was busily mapping campaign strategy. He confers with top party leaders today and tomorrow on plans for the rapidly nearing campaign.

Test For Boss Crump

But he's keeping quiet about what he plans to do, explaining: "During the war I never told the enemy a month in advance where I was going to attack."

Tennessee today holds a state primary—the fourth of the week but the first in Dixie. A record turnout is expected to decide the fate of Sen. K. D. McKellar, 83-year-old dean of the Senate who is seeking an unprecedented seventh term, and Gov. Gordon Browning, out for a third term.

And Tennessee voters probably will determine, perhaps finally, what power Memphis political leader E. H. Crump still wields. Crump, whose grip on state politics was broken four years ago by Browning and Sen. Estes Kefauver, is backing McKellar, among others.

American Airmen Bag 4 More Russian Jets

SEOUL, Korea — (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its Sabre jet pilots today shot down four Russian-made jets and damaged four in the fourth straight day of jet battles over North Korea.

On the ground, grenade-tossing South Korean infantrymen won back a central front height called Capital Hill three hours after they had lost it at dawn. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said it was the sixth time in two days that the steep hill had changed hands.

Today's toll of Communist jets boosted the Reds' losses to 15 MIGs destroyed and 19 damaged in four days. U. S. losses, if any, will be announced later in a weekly summary.

Fiercely charging Chinese troops backed by heavy artillery fire seized rugged Capitol Hill about 5 a. m. after losing about 200 dead and wounded. But soldiers of the South Korean first regiment swept back up the rugged slopes. U. N. artillerymen and warplanes helped keep the Communists at bay.

The see-saw battles for Capitol Hill were fought in sweltering heat. Wednesday was the hottest day of the year—106 degrees—at some places on the front.

Adlai Invited To White House

(By JACK BELL)

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman said today that everything necessary to obtain a Democratic victory will come under discussion when Gov. Adlai Stevenson meets with him and his cabinet here next week.

He told a news conference the questions it will include, among other things, what part he should take in the campaign.

Since Truman obviously is ranging to get in some licks at the Republicans, Stevenson may find himself confronted with the difficult task of suggesting that the president take a back seat. The Democratic nominee has been at some pains to avoid close identification with the Truman administration.

Truman said he invited Stevenson to the White House since Stevenson had suggested to him in Chicago, at the time of the Democratic national convention, that such a meeting would be a very fine thing.

He said the White House luncheon will be attended by Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, the vice presidential nominee, and by vice president Alben W. Barkley.

In a confidential tone, the president told the newsmen he would have supported Barkley for the presidential nomination had Barkley remained in the race.

Deer Rifle Bullet Kills Flint Boy, 7

FLINT, Mich.—(AP)—Police are investigating the deer rifle death of seven-year-old William Dean Ogden here last night.

The child was killed according to police, when struck in the head by a bullet fired out of a window by his pal, Orley Prentiss Mitchell, 12, who said that he didn't know that the weapon was loaded.

State's Lineup For Congress About Settled

DETROIT — (AP)—A recount battle over one of Michigan's 36 congressional seat nominations loomed today in the aftermath to Tuesday's big-vote primary election.

Otherwise, the lineup of candidates for the Fall elections was decided.

The issue was in the 14th district's Republican nomination between Richard Durant and Harold F. Youngblood.

Plumber Trails

The unofficial vote count was completed only today and gave the nomination to Durant, Grosse Pointe investment counselor, by roughly 3,300 votes. Youngblood is a Detroit plumber.

Last night only three votes separated the two. Each said he would demand a recount if he were loser in the final vote. The final unofficial vote: Durant 25,403, Youngblood 22,108.

Other contests went generally without incident.

For a time, however, it appeared Thaddeus M. Machrowicz, first term in Congress from the first district, might be upset by Charles C. Diggs Sr. for the Democratic nomination.

Diggs, a Negro undertaker, is a former state senator. He was barred from taking his seat last year under a rule adopted by the legislature that barred anyone with a prison record. Diggs had served time in Michigan prisons after he was involved in a bribery conspiracy.

But Machrowicz emerged the winner after a wave of votes from Hamtramck put him 10,000 votes ahead.

Soo Man Chosen

Only real upset was in the eighth district where Fred L. Crawford of Saginaw, Republican veteran of nine terms, was beaten by Alvin M. Bentley, 33-year-old Owosso millionaire. Bentley waged an intensive, personalized campaign, criticizing Crawford on grounds of his lengthy absence from his district. Crawford owns a farm in Maryland and spends much of his time there.

With only two precincts missing, the count was 31,652 for Bentley to Crawford's 20,139.

The Republican nomination in the eleventh district, represented by Charles E. Potter, now the party's nominee for United States Senator, went to Victor A. Knox, speaker of the House in Lansing.

DETROIT — (AP)—Ford Motor Company said today that "still lingering steel shortages" will force a closing next week of 18 of its 19 assembly plants across the nation. The firm said, however, that it was hopeful it could "resume and maintain uninterrupted production around the 18th of August."

The shutdown will mark the third time since July 13 that the firm has closed most of its assembly line operations for a week.

The new announcement was tempered, however, with the indication that the firm hoped the steel situation would be in good enough shape by August 18th so no further shutdowns would be necessary.

Next week's shutdowns will involve all 15 of the Ford division's assembly plants and three of four of the Lincoln-Mercury division factories. The exception will be the St. Louis, Mo. plant, which will operate four days next week.

Showers Save Some Crops, But Effects Of Drought Spread

(By The Associated Press)

Drought — cracking rains splashed down Wednesday on New England and parts of the south — too late to save nearly a billion dollars worth of burned out crops and pastures.

But the moisture was a timely life-saver for corn, tobacco, cotton and vegetable crops still surviving in these drought-singed areas and gave promise of reviving some pastures by fall.

Scarce Buying Noted

The drought, one of the worst in years to hit the nation's overall food production, already is having these effects:

Some sharp increases in produce prices, scattered setbacks to rural trade, cuts in milk supplies in Southern Missouri, a decline in farm labor employment in the stricken area and some "scarce" buying in canned fruits and vegetables.

Unless the rainfall pattern returns to normal, some government spokesmen predicted that sales of farm implements will be hurt and that a water power shortage will develop in New Hampshire and in oil-producing Oklahoma.

A department of commerce survey showed no serious business slump yet in any area because of the drought but that there had been some sharp increases in produce prices.

As the rains came, the federal government raised to 10 the number of entire states listed as disaster areas. It added North Carolina and the remainder of Arkansas to the list. Other states are South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Massachusetts, Maine and 44 Missouri counties. Oklahoma and Texas have been carried over from the 1951 drought.

Farmers in these areas are eligible for government loans.

Ford Assembly Plants To Close

DETROIT — (AP)—Ford Motor Company said today that "still lingering steel shortages" will force a closing next week of 18 of its 19 assembly plants across the nation. The firm said, however, that it was hopeful it could "resume and maintain uninterrupted production around the 18th of August."

Primary Shows Gain In Democratic Vote

BEATS TRUMAN'S MAN — W. Stuart Symington, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator from Missouri, excitedly waves his score pad as he gets final primary election returns in St. Louis. Symington defeated J. E. Taylor, who was backed by President Truman, by more than 95,000 votes. (NEA Telephoto)

Korea President Back In Office

PUSAN, Korea — (AP)—Aging President Syngman Rhee was swept back into office by an overwhelming majority in nearly complete unofficial returns from the Republic of Korea's first direct election of chief executives.

Rhee's choice for vice president — Ham Tai Yung, a little known Presbyterian minister — piled up a commanding lead over eight opponents in late returns from Tuesday's election.

The 77-year-old Rhee puttered in the garden of his palatial presidential residence in Seoul as the vote count, gathered over police communication channels, assured his return to office for four years.

He declined to make a statement or pose for photographs. His secretary beamed. "Mr. Rhee is very happy over the outcome."

The inauguration is set for Aug. 15—fourth anniversary of the Republic—and probably will be held in Seoul's war-damaged capital.

Rhee, known to the world as the founder of the Korean Republic, spent 40 years in exile while Japan ruled Korea. He was elected first president of the Republic in 1948.

President May Call Congress To Bolster Price Control Laws

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman said today he is considering calling an extra session of Congress to ask for a stronger price control law.

He told a news conference that no decision has been made, but he has the matter under consideration.

If it is necessary to call a special session, he declared, he will call it.

A decision will await developments, he added.

Truman declined to comment on reports that Ellis G. Arnall is preparing to quit as price stabilizer.

He also declared Tennessee and Kentucky drought disaster areas and allocated 3 million dollars of emergency funds for use in those states.

Nominee Alger Seeks Unity In Michigan GOP

By JACK I. GREEN

DETROIT — (AP)—Fred M. Alger Jr., who won the Republican nomination for governor with a 122,000 plurality in Tuesday's primary election, moved today to pull together the strife-torn Michigan GOP.

He summoned the party's new nominees and prospective state ticket to meet in Lansing Friday to get the fall campaign into high gear with a minimum of irritation and lost time—mindful that the primary showed the Democrats apparently had gained over their 1950 position.

Total Sets Record

Behind them was a record breaking primary in which Michigan sent approximately 1,450,000 persons to the polls. This compared with the previous primary record of 1,047,000 in 1932 when there was a virtual political revolution in the making.

With only 171 of the state's 4,458 precincts unreported unofficially—19 of them in Wayne county—it appeared that the Republicans had cast 891,600 votes and the Democrats 574,000.

This was no comfort to the GOP and Alger, the new party leader, because the Democrats had only one weak contest on their state ticket.

Williams Gets 574,000

Yet Governor Williams, uncontested, received a complimentary vote which may reach 574,000, compared to his 338,000 in the same situation two years ago.

And it looked like the Democrats had polled 39.9 per cent of the vote, compared with 37.7 two years ago.

U. S. Senator Blair Moody, whom Williams appointed to the Senate without political experience, had rolled up a vote of 452,280 with nearly 400 precincts still missing.

Jet Blast Kills 9 On Carrier

WASHINGTON — (AP)—An explosion of a jet plane aboard the U. S. Carrier Boxer in Korean waters killed nine men and injured an unannounced number of others, the Navy reported today.

Twelve jet planes were destroyed by raging fires that followed the explosion. Helicopters and lifeboats picked up 63 crewmen driven overboard by the flames.

A Naval officer said the 27,000-ton carrier, which normally carries a crew of 2,900 officers and men, suffered the tragedy about 50 miles off the coast of Korea Tuesday night (Wednesday Korean time).

No enemy action was involved. The Boxer played an important role in World War II.

The officer who reported the fatalities said he did not know how many men were injured. He said damage to the ship was comparatively slight, and repairs will be made in the Korean theater of operations.

Just what caused the jet plane to explode was not known, officials said. It is believed that an accumulation of gases built up after a landing, and caused the blast. The plane at the time was on the hangar deck.

Auto News Predicts Idle Plants Will Be Normal Next Week

DETROIT — (AP)—Predicting most of the still idle car and truck makers will be back in production next week, automotive news said today vehicle output should be back at pre-strike levels "before this month is over."

The trade paper estimated this week's output at 35,687 cars and 9,568 trucks compared with 15,155 cars and 3,712 trucks last week.

The auto plants' hopes for a quick return to volume production rates "have been bolstered by reports that military people are being realistic about their requirements for defense work in the present supply emergency," the paper said.

It added that there is "less and less apprehension that the government will order deep cuts in fourth quarter car and truck production quotas."

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Prices of all Henry J. and All State cars, manufactured by the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., now are up $54.55. Greek Soldiers Shoot At Bulgarian Troops Left On Border Isle

ATHENS, Greece — (AP)—Greek troops opened fire this morning on Bulgarian soldiers on the Greek-claimed border island of Gamma, in the Evros River, the Greek general staff announced today.

A communiqué said the Greek fire—from machineguns and mortars—was not returned by the troops from Greece's Soviet satellite northern neighbor.

The attack began at 8:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m. EST).

An Istanbul dispatch said that a top Turkish official at Adrianople, Turkish border town 10 miles from Gamma, reported that the firing continued for about an hour and a half, stopping around 10 a. m.)

The attack came after Bulgarian troops had been noticed on the island during last night, the announcement said. Earlier last night the general staff had issued a communiqué saying no bulgars had been seen on the island after expiration of an earlier Greek ultimatum demanding that all Bulgarian troops quit Gamma by 8 a. m. yesterday.

Press dispatches from correspondents in the area, written after the expiration of the ultimatum but apparently prior to the Greek attack, said those on the Greek side of the frontier still could see the Bulgarians on the island.

Today's army announcement said the United Nations peace subcommittee was present when the Greeks attacked and that just prior to opening fire, the Greeks warned the Bulgars by loudspeaker.

Two Lost As Plane Plunges Into Rhine

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP)—A U. S. air force bomber plunged into the Rhine river at Mainz today with four crewmen aboard. Two jumped from the plummeting craft before it struck the water and escaped with serious injuries. The other two are missing and believed drowned.

The twin-engine B-26—based at Wiesbaden—apparently was on a training flight when one of its engines caught fire. Witnesses said the flaming craft hit about 200 yards from the Rhine bridge, which spans the river at Mainz. It barely missed a big barge.

The two crewmen who jumped were hauled out and taken to a French military hospital in Mainz. A U. S. navy diver attempted to find the bodies of the two still missing.

Names of the victims were withheld.

War Hero Cited For Fake Rescue

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Maynard (Snuffy) Smith, former Michigan man who won the congressional medal of honor, was reported today to be about ready to face false report charges, growing out of a "suicide rescue."

Smith and Roland Bennett, his co-worker in a Washington appliance store, were charged with making false reports to police and firemen after a 21-year-old mother told officers they offered her $500 to fake a suicide threat so Smith could climb out on a building ledge and rescue her.

Both men denied the story told by Mrs. Ernestine Lucille Whomble in statements to newspaper reporters.

Yesterday Bennett appeared in municipal court to answer the formal charges. He said Smith also was ready to surrender to police. Bennett's examination was set for Aug. 26.

The "rescue" occurred last Thursday when Mrs. Whomble stood on a sixth-floor ledge of the YWCA building. Smith crawled out and pulled her back as firemen spread nets below.

Horse Troupe To Be At Fair

Widely heralded as America's greatest novelty troupe, Cal and Ruth Thompson's White Horse Revue will be featured at the Upper Peninsula State Fair Saturday afternoon and evening, Aug. 23.

The entertainment includes 25 of the world's most beautiful albino horses and a bevy of beautiful girls who ride the horses bareback in daring feats of precision horsemanship.

The star of the show is petit Ann Richards, a movie starlet who quit the films to learn the craftsmanship of precision bareback riding. Miss Richards and her companions perform a series of trick riding that is a sensation of the show world.

The horses were raised on Cal and Ruth Thompson's famous "Ranch in White" in North Central Nebraska. Everything on the farm is white, including the chickens, turkeys, pigs, cows and other animals. The pride of the farm is a herd of pure white horses. More than 10,000 people visit the farm each year.

The White Horse Revue features beauty, drama, thrills, remarkable horsemanship and comedy. The troupe played the Upper Peninsula State Fair a half dozen years ago and scored a tremendous success with a capacity audience.

Adventists Open Annual Camp Meeting At Wilson

WILSON—Versatility serves as a prime prerequisite for the contemporary minister who lives in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. At least this is the case in the life of Elder Alonzo R. Mohr, pastor of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The annual Adventist camp meeting, held each year at the Wilson Church, seven miles south of Harris, begins this evening and will continue through Sunday evening, Aug. 10. It is the Adventist ministers of the Upper Peninsula area who have united their efforts to construct camp next to the Wilson Church.

The camp meeting, historic method of religious convention, was first used by the Adventists in 1868 in an assembly at Wright, Michigan. Its primary purpose is to provide special spiritual benefit for those in attendance. Earlier this summer, a state-wide, church-conducted camp meeting was held at the regular Grand Ledge, Michigan, campsite with upwards of 10,000 in attendance. The Upper Peninsula camp meeting is a complimentary convention specifically for those living in the northern localities of Michigan.

Sermon by Elder Rice
This year's services will be opened Thursday evening with an address delivered to the assembled campers by Elder G. E. Hutches, Lansing, president of the Michigan conference of Seventh Day Adventists.

Friday, a series of meetings will be conducted periodically throughout the day and will be concluded with an evening sermon by Elder M. L. Rice, Berrien Springs, president of the four-state Lake Union Conference.

Adventists consider Friday the "preparation day" since they observe Saturday as the seventh-day Sabbath of the Bible. In accordance with this belief, they keep holy the hours from sundown Friday evening to sundown Saturday evening which is from even unto even.

This belief is based upon the concept that the seventh day was especially set apart by God as a day of rest at the time of this earth's creation; that the Sabbath commandment was placed in the God-given decalogue of Exodus 20; and that the seventh-day Sabbath was kept holy by Christ and hence is the Christian Sabbath.

Dr. Thiele To Speak
In worshiping on the Sabbath Adventists rest from unnecessary labors and conduct weekly church services on this day. Elder Lambert L. Moffitt, Washington, D. C., director for the denomination's international system of Sabbath Schools, will lead out in the Saturday morning meetings held at the campground this weekend.

The day's services will be concluded with an evening address by Dr. Edwin R. Thiele, Berrien Springs, professor of theology at Emmanuel Missionary College. Dr. Thiele received his PhD from Chicago University and is widely recognized as an authority in Biblical chronology.

Dr. Alger H. Johns, pastor of the Battle Creek Seventh Day Adventist Church, will speak Sunday evening, the last in the series of weekend speakers. Pastor Johns is a specialist in the field of religious liberty and holds the degree, Doctor of Jurisprudence.

Report Bad Checks Cashed In Escanaba

Reports of four fraudulent checks cashed recently in Escanaba were being investigated today by the police department. The four checks totaled $51.54.

The checks were cashed during the past ten days at the Peoples Drug store, Sav-Mor Cash market, City Drug store and Norm's Super Market. The checks carried fraudulent signatures.

Glen Leonard, city safety director, advised merchants and others to require satisfactory identification before cashing checks, and to report bad checks to the police as soon as they are discovered.

Draft Lacking Common Sense

By ROBERT T. RUARK

NEW YORK—Lew Hershey has been fiddling around with this draft business ever since I can remember, and he still doesn't seem to have it licked. "Fathers may soon face draft" the headlines say, and therewith the usual double-conversation from the good general about the pool running dry, and we view with alarm. If the draft director was in any other business outside the arbitrary selection of handcuff volunteers he would have been fired for incompetence years ago.

If you will cast your tired little brain backward you may recall that the true status of a class of eligibles for distinction has not been sharply defined in your memory, even during an important war. In this country we have never been able to strike on a stable basis for choosing up draftees. The say-so on who goes and who stay has varied with the breezes, and has been largely as unstable as Leon Errol's knees.

We inducted fathers and we did not. He took marrieds and we did not. We played a sliding scale with ages, with educational deferments, with occupational deferments. General Hershey changes, and has always changed, from month to month, according to some mysterious statistics that they grab out of a hat.

Aristocracy Of Brains

We made one serious pass at sense, universal military training and a craven Congress talked that one over for a few years and decided not to anger the constituents by making the mass Willie Edgible to serve his country. We fiddled around with educational deferments, in order to build a so-called aristocracy of brains, and put a reverse English premium on stupidity. We called back the weary old retdrafts from World War Two, and loused up families—and here we still got old man Hershey, unable to make up his mind.

It is no so much that we have been fighting a police war in Korea as that a draft machinery which has been in operation since Hector was a pup still don't know what it needs or how to go about fulfilling the needs. Since the war ended, and even before, it has been a capricious, at best, technique of satisfying a craving for manpower. I'm pretty sure the average man must be sick and tired of the process.

You cannot sit there and tell me that a father must cast off his family and go away to fight a political war while shiny-chinned college boys are exempt from service because they are taking lit.

Clair Hoehn Is Bar President

The Delta County Bar Association in annual meeting last night elected Atty. Clair J. Hoehn of Gladstone its president for the ensuing year. Atty. William E. Anderson of Escanaba is retiring president of the association.

Atty. Earl Lanthier of Gladstone, former secretary, was named vice president to succeed Atty. Hoehn. Other officers are Atty. Nicholas P. Chapekis of Escanaba, secretary, who served last year as treasurer; and Atty. John H. Root of Escanaba, treasurer.

At its dinner meeting at the House of Ludington the association had as its guest Judge Thomas J. Landers, who is presiding in circuit court here in the absence of Judge Glenn W. Jackson.

A resolution was adopted expressing the association's regret at the absence of Judge Jackson, who is convalescing after surgery, and expressing wishes for his quick recovery.

Before the dinner the association members were guests at a social hour at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Root.

SALAD DAZE—Pity the poor housewife that uses this type cucumber when her salad recipe says "Slice a whole cucumber . . ." This smiling grocer at Yatsushiro, Japan, is right proud of his king-size cuke, which is about two and a half feet long and weighs 50 pounds.

Some Simple Facts

I would not gratuitously accuse anybody in the mobilization business of intelligence, since that would automatically stamp me as an idiot, but for even a small brain a few simple precepts might be laid down and might be forced to work. One is that the head of a family is less expendable than a single man. Another is that young men make better soldiers than old men. Another is that poor boys and rich boys are equal under the law, which also applies to college boys and non-college boys.

Another is that people who have been once should not have to go twice, so long as there are eligibles around who haven't been once. Another is that six months never was the difference between a man

Court Sentences Three To Prison

Prison terms were given to three criminal law offenders in a sentencing session of Delta County Circuit Court yesterday.

The sentences, all to confinement in the Marquette branch of Michigan State Prison, were imposed by Presiding Judge Thomas J. Landers of Ironwood to:

William Ranguette, one to 10 years on the charge of embezzlement.

Charles Brunette, four to 15 years for statutory rape.

Warren Carr, three to five years for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Two Receive Probation

Two other respondents, who earlier on in this term of court pleaded guilty to the state's charges against them, received probationary terms in the session.

Gerald Rouse was placed on probation for a period of three years on the count of larceny from an automobile, and John R. Kemmer was given two years' probation under the parole officer of Green Bay, Wis., on the charge of larceny.

A charge of carrying a concealed weapon against James McDonald, 19, of Gladstone, was dismissed by the court today. McDonald pleaded guilty to the count Monday but Judge Landers refused to accept the plea yesterday after learning that the gun in McDonald's car was a memento and unusable.

Court Adjourned Today

Judge Landers adjourned the Delta county August court term today after disposing of all cases which were ready for hearing by the court.

The next term in the county opens Oct. 27. It is expected Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone presiding judge of the 25th judicial circuit, will preside in that term.

Judge Jackson was replaced on the bench for this term by Judge Landers because of his unavailability following eye surgery last month in Rochester, Minn.

Continued Treasury Borrowing Sends Interest Rates Up

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — (AP)—Interest rates creep higher as the treasury borrows more and more money.

It's borrowing the money because the government is spending more for defense and other items than it's taking in through taxes—high as they are.

And the treasury is paying higher interest because its easy money policy of many years standing took a drubbing some 16 months ago.

When treasury rates advance, interest charges on commercial loans and individual financing, such as mortgages, usually firm up, too.

Faced with a "tight money market," the treasury this week offered to pay the highest rate in nearly 20 years for one-year money—it will now pay two per cent on treasury certificates coming due in one year, a rise of 1/8 of one per cent.

Debt Cost Grows

More significantly, perhaps, the treasury said it wouldn't refund in December some 16½ billion in long-term bonds, bearing either two or two and one-quarter per cent. Financial circles here interpret that as meaning the treasury feels it would have to offer higher rates than that if it refunded in December.

Treasury officials worry because this increase in interest rates means that the cost of carrying the public debt is growing, adding just that much more to what the government spends each year.

Some of them complain that the federal reserve board, if it chose, could get the treasury off the hook easily by turning a "tight money market" into an easy one—through agreeing to buy up any government bond offered on the market.

Member banks could then sell their bonds profitably to the federal reserve banks, and get money to meet all the demands of borrowers—both private and governmental.

Money Market Tight

The federal reserve board, however, considers this easy money policy inflationary—contends it costs the country much more in price inflation than it saves the treasury in interest payments.

And so the board has refused to peg government bond prices at par or better—that is, agree to buy up all offered—ever since its widely advertised accord with the treasury on that issue in March of 1951.

The money market is tight right now for several reasons. One is seasonal. At this time of year there is a demand for credit to cover harvesting of crops and processing and distribution of food. Businessmen seek credit to produce and stock fall and winter merchandise.

This year industry wants money to finance its record expansion of plant and equipment.

And since spring the treasury has been borrowing, adding still more to the demand for money.

Short term interest rates have risen. Earlier in the year the treasury paid 1.6 per cent on its 91-day bills. Now it pays 1.86 per cent or better.

Test Put Off

Pressure is strong to raise long-term interest rates. By deciding against calling its 2-2½ per cent bonds in December, the treasury puts off for six months a test of the market.

It can decide every six months if it will call these bonds—until 1954 and 1955 when all the 16.5 billion dollars worth mature and must be paid.

But in 1954-55 the treasury will have a total of 33 billion dollars of obligations maturing.

If it waits till then to redeem all of them, it might give the money market quite a jolt—and interest rates could be higher than now.

You Can Whisper - and Be Heard!

We should like to have you come in for a ride in a Golden Anniversary Cadillac. And when you do, we hope you will just sit back and relax . . . and listen!

And what will you hear?

Well, you'll hear the soft sound of the wind as it slips past the streamlined body . . . and, possibly, the quiet ticking of the electric clock.

But aside from these—you'll hear almost nothing. In fact, you'll find you can actually whisper—and be heard by your fellow-passengers!

We want you to experience this because nothing speaks more eloquently or more convincingly of motor car quality than—silence!

It tells you, first of all, that here is automotive engineering at its superlative best. For such silence of operation can only come when every phase of the car's performance is in perfect harmony.

It speaks of precision—for only the greatest accuracy in design and construction can result in such remarkable freedom from vibration.

It is a testimonial to fine craftsmanship—to quality materials—and to scientific styling.

And, of course, this marvelous quiet foretells many of the pleasures and satisfactions you would enjoy as the car's owner. It promises rest—and relaxation—and peace of mind . . . and a minimum of upkeep expense.

So why not take our suggestion—and come in and drive this beautiful Golden Anniversary creation? Let it tell you its own wonderful story through the things you cannot hear!

Tuesday's Primary Election Had Many Interesting Facts, Figures

TUESDAY'S primary election produced a lot of interesting facts and figures for the voters of Michigan and of Delta County to ponder over between now and the November general election.

The big story state-wide, of course, was the nomination of Fred Alger for governor and Charles Potter for senator in the spirited Republican contests. Potter's tremendous showing particularly was sensational because he was not as well known in the populous industrial areas of the state as he was in the North. Potter's strength, however, proves that he will be an able and willing competitor for the Senate seat now held by Blair Moody.

The defeat of John Erickson of Escanaba in the contest for nomination for congressman, 11th district, Republican ticket, is directly attributable to the fact that the winner, Vic Knox of the Soo, is better known throughout the circuit. The tremendous vote given Knox in his home county of Chippewa was in itself almost enough to assure victory.

In Delta county, the big stories were the victory of Nick Chapekis over Clyde McGonagle for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney and the lively vote attained by Clifford Sutter of Gladstone as a write-in candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Chapekis worked hard to achieve his triumph and McGonagle made no campaign. Sutter's achievement in pulling nearly 1900 votes as a write-in candidate is phenomenal, particularly since Sutter's campaign was a Johnny-come-lately affair. In addition to the votes tallied for Sutter, a number of other votes intended for him were lost because they were incorrectly voted.

But the biggest story of the primary election was the heavy vote cast, an achievement that deserves the heartiest applause. It provides real cause for hope that perhaps the people of Michigan will take their election responsibilities seriously after all. Over half of the registered voters in Escanaba voted Tuesday and that is exceptional.

On the whole the election boards did an excellent job in tallying the vote and reporting the results. Escanaba boards, handling a large vote, particularly deserve an A on this test. The slowest job of tallying was in the four Gladstone precincts which for some unaccountable reason were hours behind all other precincts in the county in completing their tallies.

Lillquist Resignation Is Severe City Loss

THE resignation of Hugo Lillquist as superintendent of the Escanaba electric utility, effective the end of this month, is a loss to the city of great severity.

Mr. Lillquist's ability and efficiency in the field of electric distribution management is exceptional and his department has been among the best managed in the city governmental system. That electric service has been maintained in Escanaba with a minimum of disruption and a maximum of service is due primarily to Mr. Lillquist's efficiency and foresight. Incidentally, the electric utility has also been a major source of city revenue, its profits being used to reduce a tax load that otherwise would be necessary to levy directly upon residents of the community.

The resignation of Mr. Lillquist is the second serious loss in top management personnel in city service within a short period of time. Recently John Clark, superintendent of the city water and gas department, resigned to accept more attractive employment in the Lower Peninsula. It is obvious that the city cannot lose men of this caliber in key positions without being adversely affected. It simply is not possible to replace these men with others of like ability at the salary schedules offered by the City of Escanaba.

In the years in which Hugo Lillquist has served as head of the city electric utility, he has made a lot of friends. We are sorry that Mr. Lillquist is leaving, genuinely sorry not only for friendship's sake but also because we are losing the services of a capable man. At the same time, we recognize that when the opportunities for advancement come, they cannot be ignored. We sincerely wish Mr. Lillquist good fortune and happiness in his new job.

UNCLE EF

Some people just aren't born at the right time to attain their ambitions. William Jennings Bryan was born too soon to see the Democrats become the majority party. Senator Taft was born too late to see the old conservative wing of the Republicans still in control. So neither made the grade for President.

Miss V., the writer of today's first question, says she is 20 years old and that since she was about 15 has noticed an awful odor to her perspiration. No deodorant seems to help, she says, and she is just desperate.

A foul odor to the perspiration can be localized to the armpits, for example, or it can be general in nature. Poor general health or emotional upsets are said to be sometimes at fault. Offensive odors to the perspiration can come from certain drugs or foods such as those which contain onion or garlic.

In Miss V.'s case, if the commercial deodorants have failed to help her, a skin specialist's advice should be sought. If the source of her trouble is localized, it may be possible to help her by X-ray treatments, though these would have to be used with extreme caution.

Q—Will excessive smoking by a pregnant woman injure her child, and if so in what way?—Mrs. A. B. H.

A—Excessive smoking is never advisable, and many physicians feel that nicotine in tobacco may have a harmful effect on the unborn child, though there seems to be little scientific proof of this point of view. Nevertheless, excessive smoking can surely do no good and may be harmful.

Q—I read your article on spastic colon and wondered if everyone who has this has a fever with attacks.—Mrs. C.

A—Fever is not a symptom of spastic colon and if present one would suspect something else or some complication.

Q—Is locomotor ataxia or tabes dorsalis still hopelessly progressive? Have any of the new drugs offered fresh hope?—M. H. B.

A—This condition is not necessarily or always progressive. There is some reason to believe that penicillin, for example, although not the only drug which may be used, helps to prevent the progress of tabes.

Q—We have a 12-year-old boy who four years ago started jerking and jumping from his legs down. Later he developed jerks in his shoulders and head. Then he batted and squinted his eyes. It is extremely nerve-racking to be around him. What is your view?—Mrs. R. V. W.

A—Several possibilities have to be considered. The youngster should be tested for several possible nervous diseases including chorea, or St. Vitus Dance.

There is a possibility that the condition could be a tic or habit-spasm.

Until an exact label or diagnosis has been placed on his difficulty, it would be difficult to know what to suggest doing for him.

Q—How sure can a doctor be that a patient has gonorrhea without making a smear.—H. R. L.

A—He cannot be sure.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Word has been passed inside the Chelf committee that the investigation of the Justice Department is to be quietly tapered off. Chief reason: Pressure from certain big distillers who have contributed to both parties in the past.

Already three committee investigators have been given notice and orders are out to start writing the final report. Republican members are expected to object, but some of them may not be too vigorous, because the liquor companies have also been generous to the GOP.

The Chelf committee was set up as a subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee for the special purpose of probing the Justice Department. Congressman Frank Chelf, its chairman, appeared anxious to do a good job. However, Chelf, who comes from Kentucky where bourbon is sometimes said to be king, has not called his committee together since Seagrams admitted paying $30,000 in cash to ex-Attorney General Howard McGrath on behalf of the Democrats, and $20,000 to Harold Talbot on behalf of the Republicans.

Various heavy contributions were admitted by other liquor companies, together with the claim that an antitrust suit against them was dropped.

Note—The Chelf committee will meet in August to probe the law firm of Peyton Ford and Herbert Bergson, two former Justice Department officials, and then plans quietly to fold its tent. Actually the operations of the Ford-Bergson firm are not important compared to some of the other things left untouched.

REWARDING THE BUREAUCRATS

During the war, Nelson Rockefeller, who did such a good job improving our good-neighbor relations with Latin America, once remarked to me:

"When I first came to Washington I had the idea that I could bring in private business executives and reform the government overnight. However, I've been here about a year, and the longer I'm here, the more respect I have for the average government servant."

"Running the government," Rockefeller added, "is a lot harder than operating private business. You can't fire a congressman who cuts your appropriations. And you have to do business with senators whether you like them or not."

"In addition, I have found that the average government servant is very conscientious—some of them remarkably efficient."

That statement, coming from the son of one of the biggest businessmen in the nation, may cause surprise. However, Nelson's brother, John D. Rockefeller 3d, has followed it up this week with hard cash.

He has put up a quarter of a million dollars through Princeton University to give an award each year to the 10 or so most deserving "bureaucrats." As a reward for their service to the government, they are to be given free educational travel or study for about six months.

EMBALMED EVITA PERON

Dictator Peron's plan to have his wife embalmed to lie in state permanently is a shrewd move to continue the hold he had, through his wife, on Argentine organized labor and the unorganized Argentine poor.

Keeping their support, yet at the same time winning back Peron's greatest original source of strength, the military, is his real problem.

Peron came in power through the army. But when his wife took over the labor ministry and his unique power over the underprivileged increased, the military became restless and rebellious.

It was because of Evita's "undue prominence" that military disaffection reached a climax last summer and some army units revolted. While the attempt failed, distrust remained, and it took the secret police at least five months to catch even the secondary figures in the revolution. The No. 1 revolutionary still remains unknown to Peron.

Now that he is alone, Peron has been making overtures to the army. He wants to win back his old military friends. But the problem is to do this without alienating labor.

That is why Peron sent to Hamburg, Germany, to obtain the best embalming experts of Europe to preserve the remains of the ex-cabaret entertainer as a permanent shrine like that of Lenin in Moscow.

Flying Saucers:

Air Force Chiefs Greet Latest 'Saucers' With Hollow Laughter

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

(This is the last of a series of three articles.)

The Air Force has the responsibility of finding out what there is to the saucer reports? After two years' study it finally reported in 1950:

"All evidence and analyses indicate that the reports of unidentified flying objects are the result of: (1) Misinterpretation of various conventional objects; (2) a mild form of mass hysteria; (3) or hoaxes."

Lt. Col. DeWitt R. Searles, an Air Force press officer, was given the job of officially denying the existence of saucers from then on. His file on the subjects was labeled "death of the saucers."

On June 17 of this year, however, Col. Searles was forced to reveal a slight alteration in the Air Force stand on saucers. He issued a statement which said:

"No concrete evidence has yet reached us to either prove or disprove the existence of the so-called flying saucers. However, there remain a number of sightings which have not been satisfactorily explained. As long as this is true the Air Force will continue to investigate flying saucers reports."

Air Force reaction to the recent Washington sightings has been curious, and its reports have been conflicting. A few minutes after CAA confirmed its sightings on the 20th it reported the fact to the Air Force in a normal but classified procedure.

For the next several days the Air Force claimed that its radar at nearby Andrews Air Force base did not confirm the findings of the CAA radar. Later, however, the Air Force reversed itself and admitted that the Andrews radar did pick up the objects, four hours after the first CAA report.

On July 20, then, the strange objects appeared on three separate radar sets for two hours. A week later the Air Force admitted that its Andrews radar had practically identical sightings to the other two all evening.

The first night no fighter planes went aloft to investigate the sightings. A week later, however, the Air Force sent up jets to try to get a closer look at the objects.

The only report from the fighter pilots was that they saw strange lights, moving too fast for the 600 mph jets to intercept.

Another conflicting Air Force reports concerns a saucer expert from the now barricaded unit at Dayton, Capt. E. J. Ruppelt. He "happened" to be in town at the time. An AF spokesman said that he would interview all of the persons involved in the sightings.

A week later, however, Capt. Ruppelt had left town and had not contacted a single one of the CAA persons involved. Col. Searles reported that he had taken a copy of Barnes' brief summary report in long hand over the telemer, has been increased rumors around the Pentagon and from other government agencies attempting to explain saucers. And they appear to be coming from more reliable sources, although these sources continue to refuse to let themselves be identified.

Most persistent rumor is that Boeing Airplane Co. in Seattle, Wash., is either making flying saucers or has been in charge of the engineering of the project. The rumor goes that very small parts of the saucers are being made by widely scattered subcontractors and that the finished items are being assembled at some remote site.

A Boeing spokesman in Seattle flatly denies this rumor, as does the Air Force.

The descriptions of the saucers which have been sighted indicates that some radically new source of power would be needed to make the objects move as fast as they did.

If this were true it doesn't make sense that the Air Force would be expending such a tremendous effort to improve its present jet engines, which would be made completely obsolete by the new source of power. Nor would the Air Force be likely to have its saucers practice maneuvers early Sunday morning around Washington.

In the wierder category of rumors is the one that the saucers are either Russian-built or from another planet and that several of them have crashed and have been picked up by the Air Force. It goes on to theorize that the Air Force has been able to repair some of them and make them operate and at the same time is trying to build some of its own just like them.

This would account for the Air Force being extremely interested in some sightings, and apparently very disinterested in others.

Col. Searles, who has had more experience in denying saucer rumors than anyone in the Pentagon, just laughs at this idea.

But nobody is really laughing at the strange objects tracked by radar over the nation's capital.

A bright red, hourglass-shaped spot under the abdomen identifies the black widow, North America's most venomous spider. This female's poisonous bite kills about five percent of her known victims, says the National Geographic Society. Severe pains caused by her venom are sometimes mistaken for symptoms of appendicitis.

RADAR CONTROL ROOM of CAA at Washington airport tracked the strange objects on the large scope in center foreground. It shows position of aircraft within a radius of 70 miles.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

RAIN AND THE MAN—It has been a summer of sudden rains, causing rivers to run full and farmers to curse the day they ever tried to harvest their hay crop.

The degree of frustration suffered by some of the smaller farmers in the county was revealed through an experience related by a friend of mine, who met the subject of this sketch while driving along a back-county road.

My friend said he saw the man trudging along the road in the rain, carrying a cardboard box under his arm. Invited to have a ride, the hiker stumbled into the car, obviously the worse for alcohol.

"Have a drink," said the man, pulling a bottle from the box. "No? Well, you would if you felt like I do. I tried to get my hay in again yesterday. It rained—and I went out and got drunk."

NO LABOR-SAVING—The tiny passenger took a swig and became talkative. "You know what?" he said, wiping the back of his hand across a stubbly chin. "What," replied my friend.

"Money—money saves your back as well as your belly. Now me, no money. So I work my old farm by hand because I can't get machinery. It's tough, but me and the woman eat, anyway."

There was silence while they drove along the road.

"Yep," said he, reaching again for the bottle. "So I went out last night and I ain't been back since."

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER—He had also, he confided, gone deer hunting before he reached the tavern. But in this illegal venture he had also met defeat, for it had rained and the deer were not moving. "Aren't you afraid of being picked up by the game warden?" asked my friend.

The prospective alcoholic slapped his knee and snorted.

"Game snooters," he said derisively. "They couldn't catch cold in a blizzard."

"You know," he continued, with an exaggerated wink at my friend, "you don't bother them, mister, and they don't bother you. Besides I need the meat. I'm a poor man, mister."

He sat silent for a time, contemplating his poverty, self-pity dimming his faded eyes.

ENDURING ROMANCE—My friend inquired whether his wife would not be angry because he had been away all night. "No, my wife won't be mad—but she will," came the cryptic reply.

"I got a housekeeper—same one for 15 years—but no wife," he explained in answer to my friend's puzzled look.

"Fifteen years?" exclaimed my friend. "Why don't you marry the woman?"

"Because I don't want to and she don't want to. She's a war widow and if she marries me they stop her pension."

REPAYING THE DEBT—This logical explanation was voiced without excuse. That's the way it was. Anyone should be intelligent enough to realize the value of a housekeeper with pension above that of a wife without one.

"Here's where I live," said the would-be farmer, pointing. "It ain't much to look at but we get by."

"You've got a nice vegetable garden there," observed my friend truthfully, ignoring the ramshackle barn and unpainted house.

"Say," said his passenger, clambering out and reaching back into the auto for his box of bottles, "you want some beans? Radishes? Lettuce? Got more'n we'll use. No? Well, thanks for the ride."

Looking back in the rear-view mirror my friend saw his recent guest standing in the rain. The box was at his feet in the muddy road. A bottle was raised to his mouth for a fortifying drink before he set foot on the pathway to his home.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

WORDS OF CHANGED MEANINGS—We don't commonly employ the word treacle in this country, but we see it often in books coming from England. Over there it is used for what we call syrup or molasses. But it certainly didn't have any such meaning four hundred years ago!

Back in those days it was a salve, an ointment. As prescribed by ancient Greek physicians, who had first prepared it as a treatment for snake-bites, it had contained the dried flesh of snakes, under the old theory that "like cures." (The Greek name, theriacle, from ther, a wild beast, became altered in English speech to treacle.)

English quacks, however, tried to "improve" the old remedy, and began to add other ingredients, and to prescribe it as a medicine. Along in the sixteenth century they began to add molasses to it to make it taste better. The more molasses the better the taste, until finally the molasses alone became the treacle, though our British cousins no longer take it as a medicine.

Then there's the word baffled. Today, when one is baffled, he's perplexed, balked, thwarted, his plans are hindered, his efforts are brought to naught. He's made to feel foolish and upset. Nowadays his bafflement is a mental condition, that is.

In days of old, when knights were bold, however, the soldier or the knight who was baffled was indeed upset, but it was then a physical condition. For cowardice, for perjury, for disloyalty, especially if he were a knight, the punishment was to have his honors stripped from him and to be hung up by the heels from a tree, mocked and jeered by the bystanders, while he was thus baffled.

Bombast, which is now cheap and empty boastful speech, was originally the cheap cotton padding used in the time of Henry the Eighth to make his skinning courtiers look broad across the shoulders. The word is from Latin bombax, cotton.

Laugh and grow fat is an old expression. And, when you do it, it's nothing to laugh at.

So many congressmen work with relatives you'd think they'd always be glad to get a vacation.

WEDS AGAIN AT 93 — Fred Ellenberg, 76-year-old Spanish-American war veteran, and his bride, the former Mrs. Margaret E. Beebe, 93, smile happily as they leave New York's famous Little Church Around the Corner after their recent wedding. It was his fourth marriage and the third for his bride. They met years ago when both were in show business. Both are from Glastonbury, Conn. (NEA Telephoto)

Hearing Opens In Coyne Case

Hearing was begun this morning in Gladstone justice court in the charge, brought against John C. Coyne Jr., of Escanaba, of leaving the scene of a highway accident which brought death to Tom Cannon, youthful Gladstone athlete, the morning of July 27.

The taking of testimony was started late this morning and adjourned to an afternoon session after four witnesses took the stand. Justice Oliver C. Estenson is presiding.

Today's hearing results from the accident on US-2, 41 near Masonville the early morning of July 27 in which Gladstone youths Tom Cannon and Donald Timmer were fatally struck by an automobile while they were hitchhiking from a Masonville restaurant.

Coyne was questioned in connection with the accident the day following the death of the boys after remnants of Cannon's clothing were found on the undersurface of his car.

He was subsequently arraigned on two charges of negligent homicide and two charges of leaving the scene of an accident. He was released on payment of an aggregate $10,000 bond on the four counts.

Called to the stand this morning were Duane Switzer and William Bovin of Gladstone who were with Cannon and Timmer shortly before they met death, Dr. Thomas A. McInerney, county coroner, and Bonnie Provo, a passenger in the Coyne automobile.

Two more witnesses are slated to take the stand this afternoon in the hearing being held in Gladstone City Hall. They are George Kraft and Francis DesJardins, troopers of the Gladstone Michigan State Police who investigated the accident.

Wall Street

NEW YORK — (P) — Strong demand for railroads boosted the Stock Market today.

Carriers displayed gains of fractions to between 1 and 2 points while the rest of the list showed fractional advances and losses running to as much as a point.

Volume expanded on the rise and reached a rate a bit better than yesterday's 1,140,000 shares.

Railroads gathered in the bulk of the business which started picking up shortly after the opening.

Rails have been the most popular of recent market leaders, and their popularity was brightened by a report of increased income.

The Association of American Railroads reported the net income of 131 class one railroads in the first half this year came to 290 million dollars as against 260 million a year ago. The June net, however, came to 49 million as against 52 million last year.

Seaboard Air Line was active at a new high for the year. One block of 1,000 shares set the new peak up 3/4 at 100.

Steels were well ahead while motors held steady. Oils also were a little higher but not active.

Higher stocks included Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Kennecott Copper, Standard Oil (N.J.), International Paper, and Servel.

The market yesterday was a see-saw affair that ended on an up-tick. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $109.30, the best level for the average since June 10, 1930.

Election Snafu At Manistique

MANISTIQUE — An election board snafu that affects the official returns of the judge of probate contest in Tuesday's primary election in Schoolcraft county has developed in Manistique's Fourth Precinct.

The board's official returns to the county clerk and to the board of canvassers failed to include any entry of the statement of votes cast for the candidates for probate judge and no tally sheet for that contest was included in the election envelope submitted to the board of canvassers.

The canvassing board met Wednesday and adjourned to 7:30 o'clock tonight. In the meantime, Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Sheahan has arranged to have the Fourth Precinct ballot box opened tonight to determine whether a duplicate tally sheet is included in the ballot box.

If so, the snafu can be straightened out and the returns from the Fourth Precinct counted, it was reported. If not, the Fourth Precinct's tally for the judge of probate contest cannot be counted unless one of the candidates petitions for a recount.

Clinton E. Leonard, who placed second in the unofficial tabulations, has reported that he will request a recount in the Fourth Precinct if it becomes necessary.

Leonard's unofficial total was 596 to 576 for Ralph Merwin, who was third in the unofficial totals. John Faketty led the voting with 1050 votes and Joseph Vassau was fourth with 191 votes.

The Fourth Precinct unofficial totals showed 198 for Faketty, 171 for Leonard, 142 for Merwin and 52 for Vassau. The 29 vote edge that Leonard gained over Merwin in the Fourth Precinct was the margin by which he defeated Merwin in the unofficial totals, only 20 votes.

Members of the board of canvassers are Dan Harrington, chairman; C. L. Smith and Roy Roberts.

Nominee Alger Seeks Michigan Republican Unity

Alger said frankly the GOP had a fight on its hands—and he clarified decks for action.

He said he had received promises of help from all of the Republican primary figures except Lt. Gov. William C. Vandenberg, one of the two men he defeated for the nomination.

Auditor's Job Open — Alger reported he had told Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, defeated candidate for the senatorship nomination, that he would offer no opposition if Martin wants to seek renomination for auditor general at the GOP state convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 16.

But he said Martin would have to make the decision himself and conduct his own campaign.

The new party leader said he had expressed willingness to have Owen J. (Pat) Cleary, state Republican chairman, on the ticket as candidate for secretary of state as long as Cleary gives up his party post.

Since State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Attorney General Frank G. Millard are expected to be renominated, that leaves only the auditor generalship open on the ticket and there has been talk of picking an Upper Peninsula man for the spot.

Potter Leads Ticket — Alger huddled right after the election with Cong. Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan, the new nominee for the U. S. Senate, and State Senator Clarence A. Reid of Detroit, who won the nomination for lieutenant governor.

Potter comes to party councils armed with a smashing total of 388,816 votes with less than 200 precincts missing, and a plurality of 176,000 votes in his hands.

Behind Potter ran Martin with 212,181, Dr. Eugene C. Keyes of Dearborn with 179,646 and Clifford Prevost of Detroit with 23,316.

Martin apparently carried only his home county of Kent, and Lake, Manistee and Newaygo counties. Keyes carried Iron.

Potter came close to amassing more votes in Wayne county than all his GOP rivals. He had 118,302 votes there, Moody had 302,345 there.

Leonard Is Surprise — While Williams was swimming off with a 362,702 complimentary vote in Wayne, sometimes 20 and 40 to one over the Republicans, Alger was polling 111,850 in his home county.

Alger's state total was 366,643 with 71 precincts missing. Former state police commissioner Donald S. Leonard of Detroit pulled one of the surprises of the election by running a good second, polling 244,608 to 224,141 for Vandenberg, a tried vote getter.

Leonard carried only Oakland county but he was ahead of Vandenberg in Wayne by almost 20 to one. The Wayne vote was Alger 111,850, Leonard 93,561 and Vandenberg 49,879.

Vandenberg carried Allegan, Antrim, Barry, Berien, Emmett, Missaukee, Ottawa, Tuscola and Keweenaw counties.

It was a precedent smashing primary in many ways and one to puzzle the politicians.

Campaign Gets Results

They laid the record vote to a heavy newspaper and radio campaign to get out the vote and to the influence of television stimulating political interest this year.

Wayne county cast more than 617,000 ballots, almost twice the vote of two years ago. Detroit's 523,627 record vote was 58.5 per cent of its registration and compared with the previous record of 373,000 set in a hot 1949 mayoralty primary.

In Wayne county, the count dragged 24 hours after the close of the polls Tuesday night. This resulted from bed sheet ballots from which the voters were required to select 21 legislative nominees at large.

Election officials in Detroit set up a hue and cry for a revision of that system dividing the community into legislative districts to ease the plight of the voter.

3 Escanabans In Vulcan Court For Game Violations

IRON MOUNTAIN—Three Escanaba men, arrested by conservation officers of the Felch area for using an artificial light in an attempt to kill deer, yesterday were arraigned before Justice H. K. Myers, in Vulcan, where they paid a total of $123.85.

Arrested and pleading guilty to the charge were: Fred Deneo, fined $50 and $7.95 costs; Lawrence Viau, $25 fine and $7.95 costs, and Raymond Roberts, $25 fine and $7.95 costs.

The arrests were made at 9:30 last Friday night in a wooded area in northern Dickinson county.

Woman May Again Be Leelanau Prosecutor

LAKE LEELANAU, Mich.—(P)—“Spur of the moment” decision to enter the Leelanau county prosecutor's race may see Emilia Schaub, Michigan's only woman prosecutor between 1937-47, holding that office again.

Miss Schaub was given 780 votes—twice the number to establish her candidacy—in Tuesday's primary election. Since no Democratic candidate filed a petition and incumbent Marion H. Yoder withdrew from the race, Miss Schaub is apparently “in.”

State's Congress Lineup Settled

Knox tried for the nomination when Potter first ran but was defeated.

Other Republicans who stepped aside were Roy Woodruff in the tenth and William W. Blackney in the sixth. In the tenth, Mayor Clifford E. Cederberg of Bay City won the GOP nomination and Kit Clardy, East Lansing attorney, won the nod in the sixth. Clardy, a former member of the Michigan Public Service commission, was a candidate two years ago and lost the nomination to Blackney.

Only 5 Democrats — In other congressional contests the incumbents had comparatively easy times.

Clare E. Hoffman, Allegan Republican who has been in Congress nine terms, outdistanced G. Elwood Bonine of Vandalia, a state senator.

George A. Dondoro of Royal Oak, who has represented the seventeenth district since 1933, ran in the newly-created eighteenth district and won the Republican nomination there easily. He will be opposed at the election by Arthur J. Law, former mayor of Pontiac, who won the Democratic nomination.

Charles G. Oakman, Detroit councilman, won the Republican nomination in the seventeenth district. The Democratic nomination went to Mrs. Martha Griffiths, who with her husband Hicks, has been a law partner of Gov. Wil-

Summer Dream By Irene Erhart
Copyright 1952 by NEA Service, Inc.

X SEPTEMBER slid into October. Laurie French awakened early and she would go to her window and look out at the misty freshness of the morning in the park across from the apartment, and she would try to think of what Steve would be doing. School would have started by now. But at 5 o'clock he probably still would go out and run his lines every morning while the mist hung heavy over the river.

The river would be beautiful now. He had told her once it was always at its loveliest in October. He said the trees in Indiana always turned such lovely colors, just like in Vermont. And the leaves floated like little golden boats on the glassy surface of the water.

She had a long letter from her father. His roses were still blooming but it was almost time for frost. The river was low this year, because they hadn't had as much rain as usual. The weather had been wonderful, so sunny and warm. Fish had been biting too, but he'd had to fish alone because Steve was busy working on his book, and was keeping a lot to himself these days for some reason or another. Of course he had a lot of work to do in connection with his teaching. Steve was going to write to her one of these days. He just hadn't gotten around to it yet. He was, however, sending her a box of bittersweet. He said he remembered her saying once that she had never seen bittersweet after October had opened the orange berries.

So Steve remembered a little thing like that? She had almost forgotten the remark herself.

What else did he remember? Did his mind, like hers, keep going over the whole summer, recalling all the times they been together, the hours of companionship, the few times when he had held her in his arms, and the way he had kissed her?

The box of bittersweet from Steve arrived and Laurie put the bright orange and red berries in a blue bowl and set it on the window sill in her room.

Fletcher came back from Europe the last of October. He was so glad to see her and had missed her so dreadfully that it was difficult to

Her mother was delighted. She was sure that eventually Laurie would forget whatever mysterious thing it was that had happened during the summer. She saw to it that Laurie and Fletcher were coupled at any parties their friends gave. It was so obvious that even Fletcher was apologetic about it.

"I don't want to make a nuisance of myself, Laurie," he said one Saturday afternoon as they returned from a luncheon. "Emmy is determined to throw us together, but if you'd rather not be with me so much I'll have another engagement when she arranges these things."

"It's all right, Fletcher," Laurie said. "I'm very fond of you. Only it doesn't seem fair to waste your time—"

"My time isn't being wasted, Laurie." He gave her a quick sidelong glance and a smile. "I have hopes that eventually we'll sort of take up where we left off. There isn't any one else I'd ever want to marry."

That was the afternoon they came back to the Park Avenue apartment to find Steve, looking big and brown and awkward, sitting on one of Emmy's gilt and brocade chairs in the long living room, having a drink with Emmy and Mark.

Laurie stood in the doorway a moment transfixed and speechless. Steve!

Emmy was saying, "So Louis went on with his grubby 'down-to-earth' way of living and I made a lovely new life for myself with Mark here. I've never regretted it. Those things—somehow just never work out do they?"

Steve had caught sight of her now. He set down his drink on the fragile table at his side and got up. "No, they never do," he said. Then Emmy and Mark saw her and Fletcher.

Mark said, "Hello, Laurie—Fletcher—come in."

Emmy colored. "Oh yes, Laurie, your friend here Mr.—"

"Wysong," Steve said.

"Oh yes," Emmy said, "Mr. Wysong, I want you to meet Mr. Sturdevant Laurie's finance." The two men shook hands. Laurie stood there trembling, until Mark came over and put a drink into her hand and smiled down at her. Good old Mark, she thought.

Emmy's high voice went on and on. "As I was saying, Mr. Wysong, those things just simply have a way of not working out. I'm sure,

Ford Foundation To Aid Refugees

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP)—The Ford Foundation has granted $2,900,000 to help the United Nations find a permanent solution to the European refugee problem.

Paul G. Hoffman, foundation director, announced the grant and said it would be administered by the U. N. high commissioner for refugees, Dr. G. J. Van Goethart, whose headquarters are in Geneva.

Hoffman stressed that the funds must not be used for direct material relief, but to help integrate refugees in the communities in which they have settled and to provide new resettlement opportunities abroad.

"This problem," Hoffman said, "is a threat to peace the foundation regards as acute and serious. The millions of people already driven from their homes belong to the sturdiest and most creative of Europe's citizens. The aim of the foundation grant is to help to repair the intellectual and moral damage that has been inflicted on so many millions of freedom-loving people."

U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie issued a statement expressing appreciation and Van Heuven Goedhart said in a statement from Geneva that the grant would be used for social assimilation, training of youth, cultural activities and resettlement of refugees.

Three Men In Race For Legion Chief At Grand Rapids Rally

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(AP)—Three candidates will vie for election as state commander of the American Legion at the annual state Legion convention starting here today.

They are Eugene Houck of Lansing, Billy R. Wickens, Midland, and Daniel C. Donahue, Grand Rapids. Thomas Roumell, Detroit, is retiring commander of the Legion's Michigan department.

Houck and Wickens are World War II veterans and Donahue, a mail carrier, served in combat with the 32nd Division in World War I.

A Detroit Legion post will offer a resolution asking that the Legion's official magazine publish "the other side" of the public school question. The resolution protests a recent article in the magazine critical of so-called progressive education and of the National Education Association leadership.

Ingham County And Detroit Hit Hardest By Polio This Year

LANSING — (AP) — Ingham County and the City of Detroit are being particularly hard hit by polio this year, the state headquarters for the national foundation of Infantile Paralysis said here today.

Ingham County has had 43 cases since the first of the year, the foundation said. Five deaths have resulted in the county and 19 patients with active cases currently are being treated at the Lansing Edward W. Sparrow Hospital.

The foundation noted that while the Ingham County chapter collected $15,000 for polio through the March of Dimes, $25,000 already has been spent in the county.

The Detroit case load, according to the foundation, has totalled 101 so far this year. Six deaths have resulted in the county. Twenty new cases were admitted to the Detroit Herman Keifer Hospital yesterday, the foundation said.

The foundation said the Detroit Herman Keifer Hospital is acting as a clearing house for respirators from the national foundation. Five were recently shipped from there to the Flint Hurley Hospital.

The state health department said 384 polio cases have been reported in Michigan so far this year, 224 two years ago and 31 cases in 1949.

There were 159 new cases reported during the first seven months of 1952, compared with 70 a year ago, 41 two years ago and 168 in the same period in 1949.

Although last week's case count was high, the department noted that the number of cases reported has been falling off the past few days.

Gold Mining Heiress To Wed Baron's Son

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—(AP)—Nancy Oakes, beautiful gold mining heiress whose first husband was accused, tried and acquitted on charges of murdering her father, is going to marry again.

The groom-to-be is Ernest Lyssard, younger son of the Baron and Baroness Hermann Von Hoyningen Huene, of Oberammergau, Germany. He is a student at Occidental College, in Los Angeles, Calif.

The murder of her father, millionaire Canadian gold miner Sir Harry Oakes, nine years ago never has been solved. Nancy stood by her first husband, French Count Alfred de Marigny, during his trial on the murder charge but they separated in 1946. The New York supreme court annulled the de Marigny marriage on her petition.

The engagement was announced here last night by Nancy's mother, Lady Eunice Oakes.

Peck Conquers Rome Without Firing A Shot

ROMAN HOLIDAY . . . Film star Gregory Peck and wife take on spaghetti at a Roman restaurant, during day of sightseeing. He will make picture in Italy.

By JERRY QUIGG
AP Newsfeatures

ROME—As one woman to another I've just had what we've all wanted: A whole day with that Gregory Peck.

His pretty wife came along, too, darn the luck!

So did a few thousand Roman film fans who mobbed us at every stop asking for autographs—his, not mine. Not even his wife's.

The tall he-man film star is here for the summer to play a leading role as a foreign correspondent in "Roman Holiday."

Foreign correspondents I see every day around the office—but not Gregory Peck. He brought his wife and three children, and enrolled the children in an Italian summer school.

"They like to have something to do, too," he explained.

Haven't we all wondered if he could possibly be all that the movies make him appear?

Well—he just about is.

We set off to see Rome on his first day of sightseeing in the city they call eternal.

Instead it was infernal—with Rome's blasting early summer heat.

I was warm enough. But Gregory sported a dark blue jacket and gray slacks—and seemed cool and crisp all day long.

Not that he was the frosty type. He really enjoyed the day. When we got to the jagged silhouette of the ancient Colosseum he piled out of the horse-drawn carriage as eager as any first-day tourist.

"Pictures," said he. And he pulled out a couple of cameras.

He insisted on posing his wife at half a dozen angles for shots with the Colosseum background and asked me to get some of him too.

It was tourist-style photography, and both he and his wife were liking every minute of it.

Not that it was easy—either at the Colosseum, the 2,000-year-old Roman forum, or anywhere else we stopped.

There always seemed to be people—and they all recognized him.

"Gregory Peck!" girls cried. "Gregory Peck!" shouted elderly dames.

And they all flocked around with notebooks and pens for autographs.

It was a bit wearing to a gal having a "whole day with Gregory." But he did not seem to get tired of it at all. He signed and signed and smiled and joked.

And through a whole day which would have worn out a couple of politicians, he never wilted.

Only at lunch-time did he "shy" a little, suggesting:

"Let's eat in some quiet place."

That was easier said than done.

We found a place that was quiet when we got there. But by the time the film star was well into his big plate of spaghetti the waiters were beaming, the other customers were smiling and nodding—and autograph collectors were hurrying to the scene.

All the same, it was something!

Boat Owner Forces Authorities To Open Bridge At Muskegon

MUSKEGON, Mich.—(P)—Wilfred D. Hoffman's 34-foot cabin cruiser now floats in Mona Lake after the yachtsman forced authorities to open a long-closed turntable bridge separating Mona Lake from Lake Michigan.

Hoffman, a concession operator at Mona Lake park, has been determined in his battle to open the lake to pleasure craft. Yesterday he won that battle as eight men pulled the bridge open for the first time in 10 years after chopping off a couple of inches of paving over the old turntable opening. Then Hoffman piloted his craft through the opening into Mona Lake in triumph.

Things started happening last Thursday when the yachtsman steered his cruiser up to the bridge and signaled for passage through. Muskegon county authorities discovered that legally the bridge was still listed as open to navigation. They gave in and decided to open the old bridge to permit Hoffman's passage.

Quick Method Found For Census Taking

PASADENA, Calif.—(P)—Two young men working in the Pasadena City Planning Department have discovered that it is no longer necessary to stop and knock on doors to see how many families are living in a certain neighborhood.

In their hurry-up survey they've found that counting television antennas, mail boxes and gas meters is a lot quicker and almost as accurate as a door-to-door campaign.

60 Years of Steady Service

Geraldine Olson, George DeLoughary Exchange Vows

Bethany Lutheran Church was the scene last night of the marriage of Geraldine Beverly Olson and George W. De Loughary. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Grant A. Olson, 2405 Ludington St., and Mrs. Maxine DeLoughary, 301 First Ave. S.

The Rev. Gustav Lund performed the double ring candlelight ceremony at 8 p. m. White gladioli decorated the church, and satin bows with pompons marked the pews.

A full length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin which fell into a sweeping train was worn by the bride, whose father gave her in marriage. The off the shoulder illusion yoke was set with seed pearls and rhinestones and tapered into long tight sleeves. Her imported French illusion fingertip veil was held to a Chantilly lace bordered sweetheart crown. She carried red roses and white carnations.

Aides Identically Gowned

Identical gowns of nylon lace over slipper satin were worn by the two bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Jacobs, maid of honor in orchid, and Miss Lilly Ann Grenier, bridesmaid in yellow. They wore head bands of white mums and carried colonial bouquets of orchid lilies.

Joyce Jackson as flower girl was in white net over slipper satin and wore a head band of white mums. Little Dale Blosser was ring bearer.

Mrs. Olson attended her daughter's wedding wearing a white nylon dress with lilac accessories and a corsage of lilac mums. The groom's mother was gowned in black with a corsage of red roses.

Lyle Bell and Charles Hoyer served as attendants for Mr. DeLoughary. Ushers were Kenneth Blosser and Joe Hainnault.

Don Aronson was the organist and played the traditional wedding music. Mrs. Wellington Heinze sang "O Promise Me" and "Lord's Prayer."

Church Reception

A reception was held in the church parlors for 275 guests immediately following the ceremony. White gladioli decorated the table centered by a three tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bride and groom. Serving in formal gowns were the Misses Mary Lou Schleis, Jean Riffey, Anita Jackson, Carolyn Oliver and Ethyl DeGrave.

After a wedding trip to Plainfield, Wis., the young couple will make their home at 309 S. 9th St.

The new Mrs. DeLoughary attended Escanaba High School and was employed in the city comptroller's office. Her husband is a city patrolman.

Many guests from Gladstone, Rapid River, Harris and Ford River attended the wedding and reception.

Miss Steen Is Honored In Chicago

Miss Irene Steen, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Otto H. Steen, 300 S. 7th St., is one of 33 student nurses at Wesley Memorial Hospital's School of Nursing, Chicago, who will be honored this evening at an achievement dinner for accomplishments in nursing ability, scholarship, and personality. Her name will be inscribed on an achievement scroll at the nurses' residence, Hampshire House.

She is also among the 16 young women of the group who will be awarded special honor keys for achieving the highest marks and for demonstrating outstanding leadership qualities.

Today's Recipes

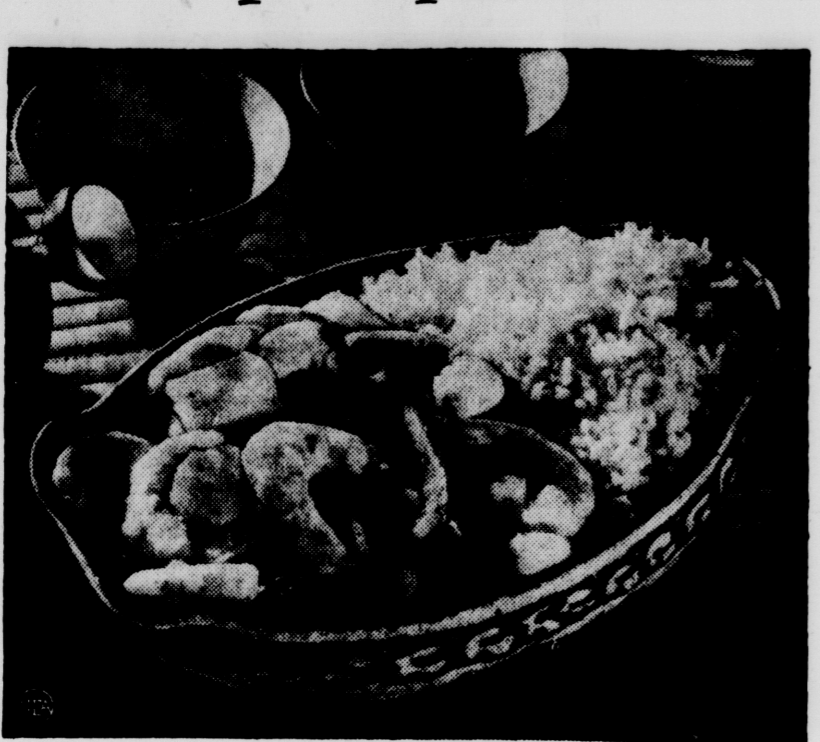

Meat Balls With Fresh Tomato Sauce

Ingredients: 1 medium - sized onion, 5 small (about 1 pound) tomatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, freshly-ground pepper (to taste), generous dash of allspice and oregano, 1/2 pound ground chuck beef, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Method: Peel onion, quarter, and slice into thin strips; there should be 1 cup (loosely packed). Peel tomatoes and dice; there should be about 1 1/2 cups, including juice. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in medium-sized skillet; add onion and cook over moderately low heat, stirring often, until yellowed and wilted—about 5 minutes. Add tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, sugar, freshly-ground peppers, allspice, and oregano. Cook, stirring often, about 5 minutes; set aside. Using a tablespoon of meat for each, shape beef loosely between palms of hands into 14 balls; do not press down or make too compact. Roll meatballs in flour. Melt 1 tablespoon fat in 8-inch skillet and brown meat quickly on all sides. (This will take about 5 minutes; meatballs should be cooked enough so centers are barely pink). Sprinkle on all sides with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Meanwhile reheat sauce; top with meatballs; do not add fat from skillet in which meat was browned. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

A Shrimp Recipe You'll Love

SWEET AND PUNGENT shrimp, served with fluffy rice, is a taste-treat that the whole family will ask for again.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's an exotic meatless main dish. As everybody enjoys shrimp, this will be a big family success.

To prepare shrimp for Sweet and Pungent Shrimp or any other shrimp dish, follow these instructions:

To Shell Shrimp: Raw shrimp (fresh or quick frozen) may be peeled either before or after boiling. To clean shrimp, remove small legs, then carefully lift off shell.

Try to slip shell from tail so that tail meat remains. With a knife, cut along outside curvature and lift out black vein. Vein is harmless and needn't be removed unless desired.

To Cook in Court Bouillon: To one quart water add 1 small cucumber (sliced), 1 carrot (sliced), 1 small white onion (sliced), juice of half a lemon, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Bring water to boil. Add 1 pound shrimp and if necessary enough more water to cover. Then heat down so water just simmers. Cover saucepan and let shrimp cook only five minutes, never longer. Drain and cool.

Sweet and Pungent Shrimp (4 servings)

Prepare 1 pound shrimp (fresh or quick frozen), following above directions.

Mix in saucepan, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce and juice drained from 1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks.

Cook until slightly thick, stirring constantly. Add 1 green pepper cut into strips, 2 small onions, cut into rings, and drained pineapple chunks.

Cook 2 or 3 minutes. Remove from heat, add shrimp and let stand about 10 minutes. Just before serving, bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Serve with hot rice.

AP Newstweats

Hope chests are becoming one of the favored presents of the younger set. What's more, the girls are as set in filling 'em up as Grandma was. And they'll even save on soda pop and pretzels to do it.

Every day letters from girls who own a chest ask such questions as: "What kind of guest towels should I buy?" "Supposing I don't marry for two or three years—will my sheets still be good?" "Is sterling silver a good buy for a young couple?" "Should I have all my linens initialed the same?"

Ask any teen-ager what she plans to do after she is graduated from high school (or college) and almost invariably the answer will be "Get married."

Coming on the heels of the hue and cry about shortcomings of the present generation, this new vein for domesticity offers an interesting twist—and common sense to boot. As one 17-year-old girl put it:

No Wasted Time

"What is the sense of going out with Richard, Charlie and Tommy, without a thought as to the future? I've seen my sisters flit away their good time with boys without a thought as to whether they are the type they'd like to marry. Me? I'm only going out with boys who would make suitable husbands—considerate, kind, ambitious and sensible."

Quite a mouthful, kids, and other young girls might profit by giving a fleeting thought to their own futures. Lots of sub-debs have learned lessons by observing mistakes of their elders. They abhor low cut evening gowns, off-color stories, smoking, drinking and hot-rod cars—all things which intrigued older sister. They do not feel impelled to engage in distasteful recreation in order to charm a boy. So unlike the last generation they are less likely to develop bad habits.

As one young girl points out: "If I must act like a jerk to attract a jerk, why bother? Nothing from nothing leaves nothing. The kind of boy I want to marry will admire me for my good qualities."

They Outdo Granny

One parent observes that the current crop of young adults would make granny look like a wicked woman by comparison. They like to cook, make their own clothes, read newspaper editorials, go to concerts and symphonies, are critical of bad movies and plays and interested in making the most of their education.

And now the hope chest adds to the intrigue. In a recent magazine poll (Scholastic) 22 per cent of the girls polled desired a chest as a graduation present, close on the heels of traditional favorites such as watches, luggage and clothes.

If you haven't planned your cedar-lined chest, don't be out of step. One group of girls offers a good suggestion to make the entire idea more interesting. The girls formed a Hope Chest Club—an organization sworn solely to the idea of promoting their hope chests. They have a pact to give each other interesting items for their cache on birthdays, Christmas, graduation and other special occasions. And they talk it up to each other's families. As one girl says:

Practical Gifts

"Instead of giving a box of handkerchiefs or stockings as a gift, we give such things as washcloths, hostess napkins, dish cloths, dish towels, guest towels. Sometimes we buy pillow cases or guest towels and embroider the edges or initial them. These items cost less, usually, than ordinary presents, and make a wonderful hit with the gal who gets them."

But let's hope that the chest at the foot of the bed isn't acquired so early it will feed the moth or make the girl desperate in her man trappings. There is nothing that will send a man scurrying home to mother faster than that orange-blossom stare from a girl he hardly knows. On the other hand, boys admire a girl who admits she wants to get married and who acts like she is preparing for it, eventually. So long as he doesn't expect you are trying to nab him, he'll think it is a good idea.

Whether you own a hope chest or not, a good thing to remember, now that the romantic season is upon us, is to wait until the boys pop the question before you shop for your wedding veil.

Use bacon drippings when you are frying chicken. Be sure to cook the bacon on low heat so the drippings will be pale in color.

Prepare garlic butter as for bread and spread it over sizzling steaks or hamburgers as they come from the broiler.

Odds n' Ends

Here's something good and cheap... chicken pasties that are frozen and ready to heat in the oven... there's even gravy that can be dressed up a bit to pour over the finished product... use cream of chicken or mushroom soup to thin out the gravy; this gives more taste.

Who says women aren't smart? Even President Truman was impressed with the "Teacher of the Year"... and notice it wasn't a man... Mrs. Gerry Jones, grade school teacher in California walked off with all the honors.

Turn your ugly duckling into a swan... that hideous and out of date lighting fixture can be painted white with the accent on color... don't try to play it down.

Here's a Swedish trick... Defrost a package of Fordhook limas... or any limas, canned or frozen... this recipe is good any way... Toss them lightly with tablespoon of sour cream, tablespoon chopped chives; season, cover and bake 1/4 hour in a 300 degree oven.

Canner care tips... store your canner with the cover inverted to allow air circulation and avoid odors... clean the vent pipe occasionally with a pipe cleaner.

Perhaps there'll be a really warm day coming, so try this... a molded pineapple and cucumber salad ring filled with tuna or salmon salad... give it that unusual taste by marinating the tuna or salmon in California sautune or other white table wine for an hour or more, then drain well and mix with celery and mayonnaise. Cheese biscuits go well with this.

Keep Busy! It's The Only Way To Forget Loneliness

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

The only real solution to loneliness is to keep so busy that you have no time to think about yourself and how lonely you are. That is the best advice for the 21-year-old wife who writes:

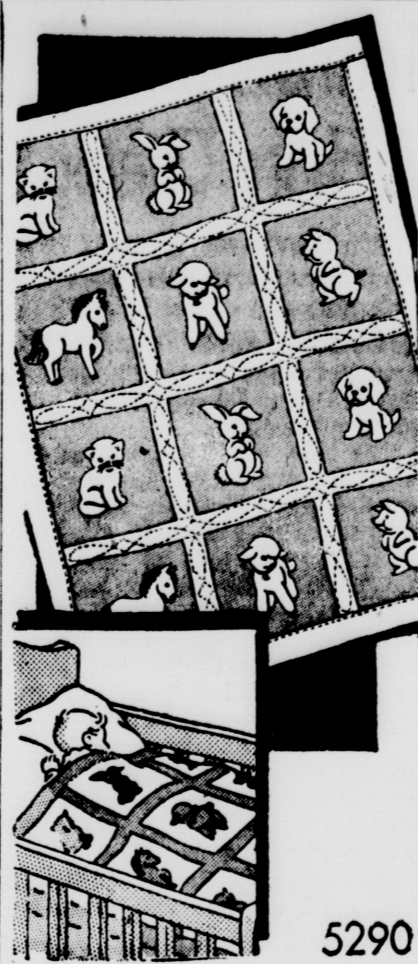

(Q) "I have a terrific fear of loneliness that has been with me since childhood. My husband had to go in the service and is now in Korea. Worrying about his safety plus the fact that I have no friends to go out with is starting to depress me. I have tried working in an office to keep my mind busy and perhaps acquire a friend but I have found out that there was no one my age who was friendly toward me or interested in becoming acquainted. I crave the feeling of being useful and needed. What would you advise?"

(A) There are few people who are happy alone. In your case, this natural craving for companionship has been intensified by childhood experiences. There is no use to buck it. You will be much wiser to put yourself in a situation where loneliness is reduced to a minimum.

First of all, get another job. There are many office jobs available today so you can be selective. When you apply for a new job, make the type of people you will be working with your first consideration. You can find out in your interview if there are many young women your age employed there and if the organization has any social events or clubs for its employees. That would be more important to you than salary.

Second, offer to do volunteer work in the evenings or over the weekends. All hospitals are in great need of volunteer workers. In addition, there is the Red Cross and a number of other community and church organizations which need workers. Your office experience would be of great value to them.

And, finally make some arrangement that you will not be living alone. If you want to remain in your home so you will be there when your husband returns from overseas, have someone come and live with you. If you have no

Vitamin C helps to keep the tissues in our bodies in good condition. All the familiar citrus fruits are bountiful sources of this vitamin. Half a glass (four ounces) of orange or grapefruit juice, fresh or canned, goes far toward meeting a day's needs. The same is true of half a grapefruit or a whole orange. Other good sources of vitamin C include candied or fresh tomatoes and tomato juice, raw cabbage and green lettuce, fresh strawberries and cantaloup.

When using a pressure canner never add cold water to a hot canner, and guard against sudden cooling that might cause it to warp.

Fine Field Seeking Running's Crown In Roleo This Weekend

A formidable field of log rollers will be on hand in an attempt to wrest the crown from the head of Jimmy Running, Eau Claire, Wis., when the 1952 Championship Roleo and Festival is held here this weekend.

The field of entries includes three from Canada, providing an international aspect; three from the west coast, three from Minnesota and five from Michigan.

In addition to the birling on Saturday there will be a program of fun and frolic on Delta avenue, starting at 3 in the afternoon and concluding in the evening at 9 with a street dance.

Rating high among the contenders for the crown worn by Running since 1948 is Mark Olson, Escanaba, former hockey captain at Michigan Tech., who lost to Running last year after taking the first fall.

Then there is Elmer Swanson of Quilcene, Wash., who held the title in 1934; William P. (Billy) Girard, Gladstone, 1926 title holder and still king of the trick and fancy rollers; Frank Pelouquin, Fort Frances, Ont., who won the first meet following the war and Lawrence Bergeron, Cloquet, Minn., 1928 champion.

Rating high in the dope is Ray Heideman, Milwaukee, football and basketball coach at Cathedral high in Milwaukee, and one of the most popular birlers ever

Ford Named Chairman Of Freedom Crusade

NEW YORK — (AP)—The board of directors of the crusade for freedom has selected Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company, to succeed Gen. Lucius D. Clay as chairman of the crusade.

Clay, former American military governor in Germany, has headed the crusade since its inception in 1950.

Rear Admiral H. B. Miller (Ret.), president of the crusade, announced Ford's selection yesterday.

Miller also announced that the organization will seek four million dollars in its fund drive this year between Nov. 11 and Dec. 15. The crusade, a private organization, established radio free Europe and radio free Asia to combat Communism.

Mysterious Substance Only Burned Toast

ALBUQUERQUE — University of New Mexico scientists got out their Geiger counters, their laboratory equipment and their microscopes.

For days they studied the mass of black, porous material sent to them as the possible remains of one of the mysterious green fireballs. It was sent to them by a Macon, Ga., school teacher who said it apparently landed on her sidewalk in liquid form.

Finally, desperate, Dr. Lincoln La Paz, head of the university's institute of meteoritics, shewed the stuff to his wife.

Mrs. La Paz looked and sniffed and settled the problem and provided.

You can puzzle a scientist but you can't fool a housewife when it comes to burned toast.

Ripley Curios Will Be Shown During Festival

A personal collection of oddities of "Believe It Or Not" Robert Ripley is to be on display in Gladstone Saturday evening and Sunday during the championship Roleo and Festival, it is announced by A. F. Ellingson, general chairman. The local showing is under the auspices of the Navy Club of the U. S. A.

The Navy Club is a recognized veterans organization chartered in 1940 by a special act of Congress.

No charge is made to view the exhibit. Voluntary donations are accepted, however, and funds raised help the club maintain its welfare and rehabilitation program.

The exhibit will be on display in Gladstone on Delta avenue Saturday afternoon from 5 on, and Sunday will be at the Yacht Harbor all day.

Ripley spent his lifetime traveling in foreign countries in search of strange and bizarre items and personalities to use for subject matter for his "Believe It Or Not" cartoons which appear in newspapers throughout the world.

Featured in the mobile display coming here is part of a collection of replicas of the royal crowns of Europe obtained by Ripley from a London museum, the "Scold's Bridal Mask," the "Spike Crown," a medieval torture device, a shrunken human head from South America and a butterfly that lived in the heart of a tree for more than 60 years. There are also many other items in the display.

Telescopes show that the surface of Jupiter is marked by belts of light and darker materials.

Final Plans For Dramatic Air-Sea Rescue Completed

Final plans for a United States Coast Guard air-sea rescue demonstration here Saturday afternoon were completed here yesterday morning by VFW Water Festival officials and officers of the Traverse City Air Rescue Base.

The rescue demonstration is slated for 5 p. m. Saturday in Indian Lake in front of Arrowhead Inn, with at least one large helicopter and a Grumman flying boat participating.

The helicopter, which will make flights over Manistique several times Saturday along with the flying boat, is the same type machine which recently completed a successful trans-Atlantic crossing.

Two officers and one enlisted man of the Traverse City Base—Lt. French, Lt. Brunk and Seaman Smith—arrived at the Schoolcraft County airport yesterday morning aboard a Beechcraft airplane. They were met in National Guard jeeps by Fred D. Heltman, chamber of commerce secretary; Everett Anderson, festival chairman; L. E. Wilson, festival aerial show chairman; and Archie Carpenter, a member of the festival committee.

Using a boat loaned by Roy Nelson the Coast Guard group surveyed the Indian Lake area facing Arrowhead Inn and also made depth soundings. Water conditions were found satisfactory for the air-sea rescue exhibition.

During the rescue demonstration the Grumman flying boat will land in front of the Inn and will make a jet-assisted take-off.

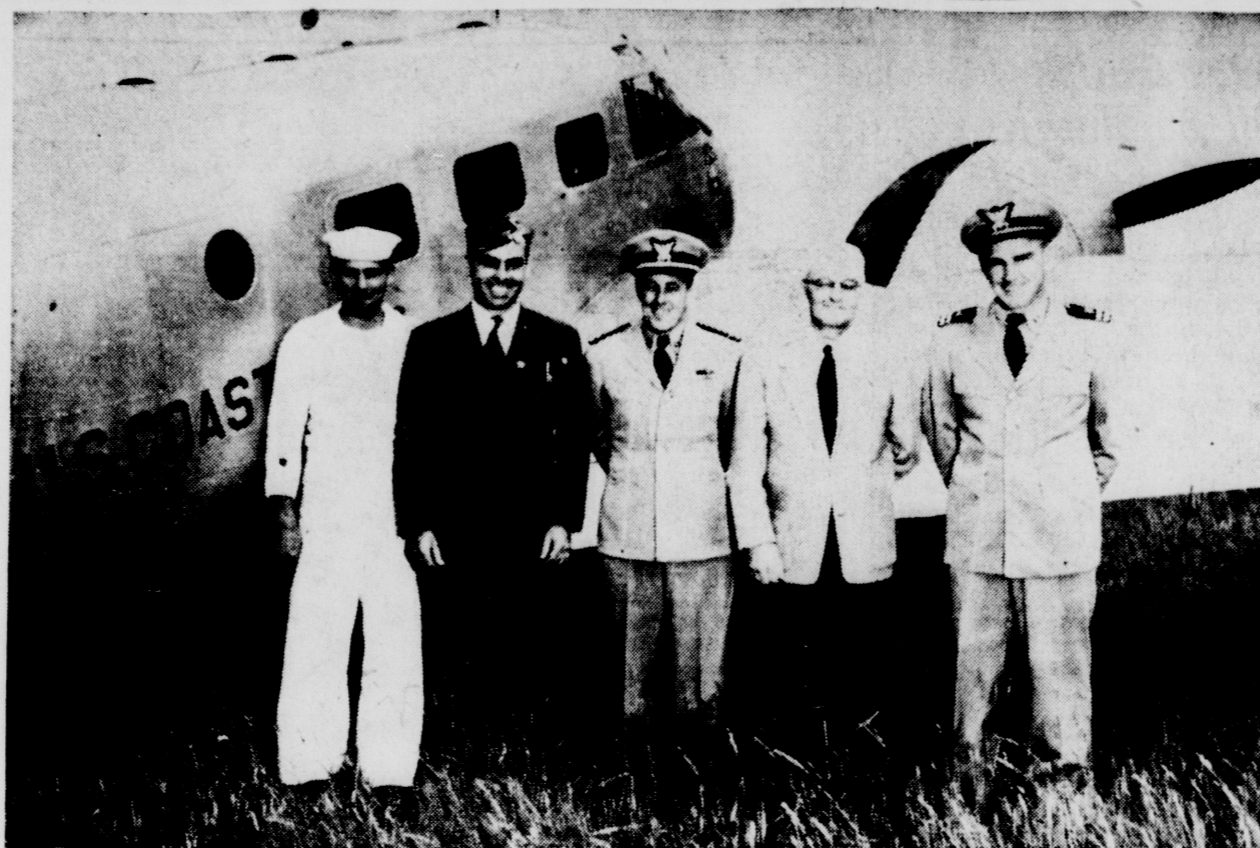

To Hold Float Parade Tonight

Highlight of tonight's U. P. Firemen's Tournament program will be a large float parade, forming at 7 and starting at 7:30 at the intersection of Deer and Fifth Sts., it is announced.

Many outstanding floats are scheduled to take part in the procession as well as several bands. Following the parade the CYO boxing show, rated the best fight program ever offered to Manistique fans, will open at the Hall stadium at 9 p. m.

The float parade will proceed through westside and eastside business districts, disbanding at the high school stadium.

U. P. firemen commenced converging on Manistique Tuesday and by Wednesday noon the presence of uniformed fire fighters dominated the streets.

PLAN SEA-AIR RESCUE—Local civic leaders and Coast Guard officers from the Traverse City Air Rescue base, shown above at the Schoolcraft airport Wednesday, made final plans for a demonstration air-sea rescue at Indian Lake Saturday afternoon.

Republicans Lead In County Voting

The Republican vote exceeded the Democratic totals in Tuesday's primary election about two to one, a final unofficial tabulation of complete returns shows.

The Republican vote for three gubernatorial candidates totaled 1,409 compared to 735 received by G. Mennen Williams, top vote getter on the Demo ticket.

Returns from city precincts 3 and 4, not available until yesterday morning, changed the Republican governor picture from the 16 precinct totals collected late Tuesday night, with Fred Alger Jr. forging into a lead over Williams Vandenberg in county balloting.

Complete returns also reveal that Clarence A. Reid paced the field for the Republican lieutenant governor nomination, and Congressman, respectively, by substantial margins.

Prentiss Brown Jr. easily defeated his two opponents in the county for the Democratic congressional nomination.

Complete unofficial totals follow:

Golfers Tee Off In U. P. Championship Tournament At Highland And Escanaba

BULLETIN
The 1953 Upper Peninsula Golf Association tournament was awarded to Marquette at the annual Association meeting here last night. Matches will be played on the Marquette and Ishpeming Country Club courses.

A record postwar entry of 120 golfers from 21 clubs in Upper Michigan, Northern Wisconsin and the Canadian Soo teed off at Highland and Escanaba Golf club courses this morning in quest of the championship of the 38th annual Upper Peninsula Golf Association tournament.

Of this number, more than 100 were in pursuit of the title vacated by Bruce Christensen, of Menominee, who has turned professional and will be wearing Uncle Sam's khaki in the near future. The remainder will battle it out for the official senior championship.

This number assured tournament officials of at least six 18-man flights in the championship proper and two eight-man flights in the division for those over 40 years of age who desire to compete in the senior division.

Qualify Today
All competitors were to qualify over the 18 hole route this morning, and the low 32 qualifiers were set to play first-round 18-hole matches in the championship flight this afternoon. Match play in all other flights in both divisions was slated to start tomorrow morning. The championship finals is set for Saturday afternoon, and all other flight championships will be settled in Saturday morning matches.

Among the late entries was Frank Hruska, of Menominee, who was champion in 1939 and runnerup to Harry Hogan, of Escanaba, at the American Soo in 1938 and runnerup to Dr. Robert Berry, of Marquette, at Menominee in 1940. Another potent championship fighter in the field was Phil Colasanti, of the American Soo, who is playing in his 26th consecutive U. P. golf tournament.

Prizes are on display at the Highland Golf club, host for the first time in the long history of the association. They are F. G. Hood championship trophy, low medal, low team, seven of equal value for each flight and four of equal value for each flight in the senior division.

The annual association meeting was held last night at the Highland club when last-minute rules discussions were held and the tournament for 1953 was awarded. The annual dinner will be held at Highland tonight, beginning at 8, and golfers and their guests will convene at the Escanaba Golf club tomorrow night.

Public Welcome
Officials stressed yesterday that the public, golfers and non-golfers alike, are welcome to watch the matches at either course tomorrow and Saturday. There is no charge. All the top-ranking golfers of the U. P., Northern Wisconsin and the Canadian Soo are entered in the 38th annual association classic.

Rhodes Gives Giants New Boost At Plate

NEW YORK (NEA)—Jim Rhodes has been catching the eye in the Giants' home stand.

Rhodes, a left-hand swinger, hit a home run first time at bat in Harlem, thereby tying a record held by many. He swatted three in the first five games he played there, at a time when the New York Nationals needed the long one.

But more important to fan sentiment than his slugging may be Rhodes' obvious eagerness to please. He is never nonchalant when bats meet ball, but digs for first base as if that were to be his last chance. In the field, he returns the ball smartly to the infield, even when there is no play. His conscientious attitude and craftsmanlike manners are the best recommendation.

Question: There are men on second and third bases. On a double steal one runner is trapped between third and home. The man on second moves to third. The fielding team fails to tag the trapped runner. As he dashes to third, his teammate scrambles back to second. Isn't the latter out?

Answer: When a base-runner occupies the base formerly held by a teammate, he doesn't necessarily force that teammate to proceed to the next base. Both runners are privileged to recapture their former positions.

Q. How many more years does Peanuts Lowrey have to play to become a 10-year man in the majors?

A. The Cardinals' outfielder can join the lodge following completion of the current run. He played his first full season with the Cubs in '43.

Q. Does the catcher, when he doesn't have the ball, have a right to block the plate with a runner trying to score?

A. The base line belongs to the runner. The catcher should be there only when he is fielding a thrown ball or when he already has the ball in his hand.

Q. What is the longest losing streak on big league records?

A. Cleveland, then a National League entrant, dropped 24 straight in 1899.

Q. Hollis Thurston, who won 20 games for the White Sox of 1924 and finished his major league career with the Dodgers, was one of the best dressed ball players. He was anything but a soft ball pitcher. Why did they call him Sloppy?

A. Thurston's family started calling him Sloppy because as a youngster he spilled milk on himself.

Kipling vs. Power & Light 9:30

Two Escanaba teams fell by the wayside last night in the district Class A double elimination softball tournament.

Harnischfeger bit the dust first, bowing to Phil & Ev's by a 6 to 5 count. It was the second straight loss for the Harnies, defending district champions.

The No Names also absorbed their second straight tournament defeat, falling to Carney 11-1, and thereby takes a sideline seat as the remaining teams battle for the district tourney title.

The Dells became the first Class A team to post two wins in tournament play last night by blanking Munising 6-0. In the remaining game last night, Kipling upset White Birch 3-2 in nine innings.

Tough Tourney Team
Paper Mill, always a tough tournament club, will test the Dells in one of tonight's feature games. Paper Mill opened the tourney with a 3-0 win over Carney Tuesday night.

In that clash the Dells will send veteran Louie Kositzky to the mound against Paul Larson of the Paper Mill club. The Dells last night posted their 13th straight victory after a slow start at the early part of the season.

White Birch, rated one of the tourney's favorites, will be fighting for life tonight against Munising. Another loss for White Birch and that team will join the two already eliminated. And if Munising is beaten that club is also out of the running.

Leo Lancour and Franny Lancour shared White Birch mound duties last night and were nicked for nine safeties. Wes Lake, who went the distance for Kipling, also granted nine hits. Jim Kennedy and Bob Lake were the big guns in the Kipling plate attack.

Early Lead
Carney crushed No Names with an eight-run first inning and then added three in the third which was marked by a pair of homers by Anderson and Moran.

John Pierpon scattered five hits while going the route on the Carney mound. No Names registered their lone run in the fourth. Ike Eis gave up nine hits in going the route for No Names. Six No Names errors doomed the Escanaba club.

The Dells jumped on Munising for six runs in the first inning and both teams were scoreless the remainder of the game. Ken Du Fresno spun a four-hitter at the visitors in posting the only shut-out of the night.

With third baseman Mickey Kuchenberg leading the way on three hits in four trips, the Dells batsmen combed Munising hurler for nine hits and took advantage of three errors.

Hambletonian Is Set For Today

GOSHEN, N. Y. — Sixteen finely tuned horses brought their argument for the three-year-old trotting championship down to Bill Kane's triangular-shaped Good Time Park track today—weather permitting.

Rain interrupted their plans to settle the argument yesterday turning the racing strip into sticky, holding mud. It still was coming down early today, and plenty of sunshine was needed to forestall another postponement.

Several thousand fans already were milling around the track when Kane decided there had been too much rain to permit the valuable equines to take the track in quest of the purse of $87,637.55—second richest in the history of the 26-year-old stake.

It was the second straight year that rain had forced postponement of the trotting horse derby.

But the weather didn't make any change in the odds. Duke of Lullwater from the barns of W. T. Candler of Decatur, Ga., and driven by 32-year-old Johnny Simpson remained the 3 to 1 choice, to take the best of three heats starting at 2 p. m. (EST).

Hit Song 4 to 1 is second choice with Harry Pwonall in the driver's seat.

Although the Duke and Hit Song were the most popular hosts to the disappointed fans yesterday, there are at least a half dozen others well considered.

They include C. W. Clark's Sharp Note of Dearborn, Mich., away from the races since a triumphant campaign on the West Coast.

The others are the only two fillies in the race—Crystal Hanover, P. J. Baugh, T. R. Johnston and T. W. Church, Charlotte, N. C., and O. O. Mears' Lu Peck of Toledo, Ohio.

Packer Rookie Stars Giving Vets Trouble

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn.—New young blood is boiling in the Green Bay Packers training camp here and Head Coach Gene Ronzani is mighty pleased about it.

The Packers have 22 sophomore rookies in this University of Agriculture retreat and at least 15 of them are giving the pro experienced gentlemen a polite run for their money. In addition, the club has six rookies training with the College All Stars, Babe Parilli, Bill Howton, Bill Reichardt, Tom Johnson, Chuck Boerio and Bobby Dillon.

One of the outstanding new boys on the Packer reservation is fittingly enough a Wisconsin bred athlete, one Derald Teteak of Oshkosh, a star on Wisconsin's eleven for three seasons and a former all-Fox Valley Conference star.

Gives Vets Trouble
The squad hard-hitter is playing middle linebacker and he's giving the veterans real trouble. His vicious tackles shattered the teeth of such veterans as 220 pound Jack Cloud and the ageless Tony Canadeo.

Working and boiling with Teteak is Tito Carinci the linebacker from Xavier. The pair of newcomers not only will soften the loss of Walt Michaels and Bob Summerhays but may make the club tougher in that spot.

Rookies are carrying the load at tackle and guard. Working in well at tackle are Dave Hauer, Elmer Costa and Dick Logan while Frank Kapral and Art Kleinschmidt seem to have it as guards.

Among the rookie backs, halfback Johnny Pont and fullback Bobby Jack Floyd are opening eyes every day. On defense, Ed Withers, the first year man from Wisconsin, is developing rapidly, and he likes to come up fast to make tackles near the line of scrimmage.

Forté Is Surprise
Another surprise in camp is Bob Forté, the veteran linebacker-halfback who was in Uncle Sam's service last year. Forté never played T quarterback in his life but he's filling in nicely as an assistant to Tobin Rote. Forté probably will go back to linebacker when Parilli reports after the All Star game Aug. 15. But he'll still be ready for emergency QB use.

Right now the Packers are pointing for the Fish Bowl game in Duluth, Friday night. After that they'll get ready for the big non-conference opener against the New York Giants in Milwaukee, August 16 in the third Annual Shrine Mid-West Charity Football game. Then on Aug. 23 they'll meet the Cleveland Browns in Green Bay.

Trojan Gridders Will Get Equipment Monday

First call for St. Joe Trojan football candidates was issued today by Coach Tom St. Germain for Monday morning at 9:30 at the high school gym.

Equipment will be issued to all grid candidates Monday morning. Physical examinations will be announced later.

"We want all boys to come out Monday, regardless of their class in school," Coach St. Germain stated. The Trojan mentor will again be assisted in coaching by Ira Hanson of Nahma.

The Trojans, who lost heavily through graduation last year, will hit the gridiron as soon as possible to prepare for the annual season-opener against Gladstone on Sept. 6. The game will be played at Gladstone's gridiron.

St. Joe this season will play an eight-game schedule. The Trojans are slated for two home games, against Bark River and St. Norbert, and six on the road.

Most conspicuous among the missing this season will be half-back Pete Kutches, Trojan all-state star last year.

St. Joe's schedule:
Sept. 6—Gladstone, there.
Sept. 13—Stambaugh, there.
Sept. 20—Bark River, here.
Sept. 26—St. Norbert, here.
Oct. 4—Norway, there.
Oct. 11—Crystal Falls, there.
Oct. 18—Munising, there.
Oct. 25—Niagara, there.

Charles-Layne In Heavy Bout

OGDEN, Utah.—Rex Layne, Utah's hope for the world's heavyweight championship ruled a 6-5 favorite today to whip Ezzard Charles in their 10-round fight tomorrow night in municipal stadium.

Promoter Kenny Mayne said the fight will be Utah's own version of the championship. He will present a championship belt to the winner on the ground that Charles is "the uncrowned champion of the world."

A possible shot at the winner of the Rocky Marciano - Walcott title goes in September may be the prize for Friday night's winner.

Best guess on the gate is an attendance of 25,000 and a gate of possibly $200,000.

The Layne-Charles main event is expected to get underway about 11:45 p. m. (EST). There will be no radio and no television. In case of rain, the fight will be postponed until Saturday night.

Jack Dempsey, the former Manassa, Colo., mauler who fought here and in Salt Lake City before War I, will be the referee and sole judge.

Weigh-in ceremonies will be held at noon tomorrow. Layne expects to be down to 195, while Charles probably will tip the scales at 187.

AFL Unions Beat Elks Team 4 To 1 In Pony League

Don Trotter scattered three hits yesterday while pitching AFL Unions to a 4-1 victory over Elks in the week's Pony League headliner.

It was the fifth straight league win for Trotter, the only unbeaten pitcher in the loop.

Elmer Besson went the route for Elks, giving up five safeties. The Elks-Insurance Association game has been changed from Friday night to Saturday at 10 a. m. at Royce Park diamond. Change was made because of the district softball tournament in progress here.

Old Satch Proves He's Got It; Senators Spank Yankees 6 To 4

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

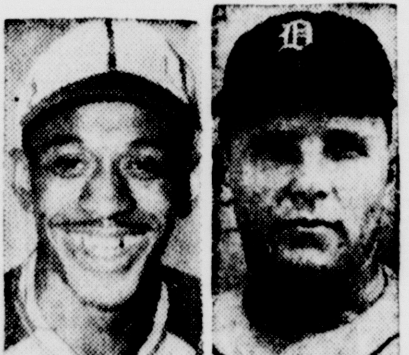

Old Satchmo still has it. Even if he is "43 and going on 49," as some folks say, Satchel Paige of the St. Louis Browns still has the stuff to bewilder big league hitters. Let there be no doubt about it.

If Paige had spent his career in the majors, instead of knocking around the exhibition circuit in the Negro leagues, he would have been a sure thing for the Cooperstown Hall of Fame.

Satchmo chose to desert the bull pen last night for a starting role—the second time he'd tried it this year. Even youngsters wilt in the late innings but not Paige. Locked in a 9-0 duel with Detroit's Virgil Trucks, he pitched nine shutout innings. After Trucks gave way to a pinch hitter in the 10th and Hal White took over, Paige still was in there throwing goose eggs at the Tigers in the 10th, 11th and 12th.

Bob Niemann bases-loaded single with two out in the 12th finally got him home with a 1-0 win, his eighth of the year. The box score showed only seven hits for the Tigers—six of them singles. Satchel walked only two and struck out nine in his brilliant effort.

In the 10th the Tigers loaded the bases with nobody out. Paige made pinch hitter Johnny Pesky and Johnny Groth ground into force plays at the plate. Then he struck out Neil Berry on three straight called strikes.

Walt Masterson pitched the Washington Senators to a 6-4 victory over New York, striking out 11 Yankees.

The bespectacled righthander whiffed Mickey Mantle four straight times and Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra and loser Harry Schaeffer twice each. He allowed only one hit in the last five innings after being blasted for three runs in the fourth.

The loss shrunk the Yanks' lead to three games because Cleveland won its day game from Chicago, 7-1 for Early Wynn's 13th victory. Larry Doby, who hit his 24th homer off Bill Kennedy in the first, ruined Wynn's shutout

Call High School Gridders At Gladstone, Manistique

St. Joe First Foe For Braves

GLADSTONE — High School football practice will start next Monday, Aug. 11, and Coach Don Pfothauer asks candidates for the team to report Monday morning at 9 at the school gym at which time uniforms will be issued.

Twelve lettermen are expected to be among the 35 or 40 boys turning out. They include Captain Jack Holm, Martin Becker Jr., Harold Goodyer, Tom Peterson, Duane Peterson, Ed Bunno, Dick Lamberg and Francis Rabinov, linemen, and Tom Moreau, Lowell LaPlant, Robert Sanford, and Norman Beauchamp, backs.

The number would have been 13 had it not been for the untimely death of Tom Cannon recently. Cannon quarterbacked last year's eleven.

The local mentor will have four weeks in which to whip his team in shape for the opener against St. Joseph Parochials here on Saturday, Sept. 6.

The complete schedule follows:

Sept. 6—St. Joseph, here.
Sept. 13—Munising, there.
Sept. 20—Manistique, here.
Sept. 27—Marquette, here.
Oct. 4—Newberry, there.
Oct. 11—Ishpeming, there.
Oct. 18—Stephenson, there.
Oct. 25—Escanaba, here.

The Ishpeming and Stephenson games will be played under lights in the evening.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Odds and ends . . . Joe Milokna, new Escanaba High School football coach, was among the 79 high school and college mentors attending the three-day U. P. coaching clinic at Marquette recently . . . Attendance was the highest since 1949.

Sault Ste. Marie, former member of the Northern Michigan Hockey league, has taken initial steps to join a proposed Northern Ontario circuit . . . The league would link the two Saults, Sudbury and North Bay into one division with three teams from Canada making up a second . . . $10,000 is the organizational goal.

The Marinette American Legion Junior baseball team was rained out two straight nights in its quest for the Wisconsin state Legion championship . . . Marinette, the team that defeated Al's Bark River club 4-3 during regular season, will play West Allis of Milwaukee for the state title.

Rain also put a crimp in district softball tournament play at Ironwood . . . All opening games slated Monday night were washed out . . . At Soo, all three classes will battle through double elimination tournament play . . . In Escanaba tournament play, only Class A is a double elimination affair . . . It's "sudden death" in B and C.

Defending champions in the Escanaba district softball tournament which got under way this week are Harnischfeger in Class A, Power & Light in Class B and Stonington in Class C . . . New champions are sure to be crowned in Class B and C because both defending titlists have moved up a class this season. And Harnischfeger's 6-5 loss at the hands of Phil & Ev's last night leaves Class A wide open for a new champion.

New Mentor At Emerald Helm

MANISTIQUE — Dick Bonifas, Manistique High Schools new football coach, has arrived here and is already engaged in getting things ready for the fall grid season.

The first call for grid candidates to report for physical examinations next Monday was issued yesterday by the new coach.

All prospective players, regardless of the class they are in next school year, are directed to report at the high school between 9 and 11 a. m. Monday for physicals. This is a procedure required before a boy can participate in football, Bonifas said.

Equipment will be issued to sophomores, juniors and seniors following their examinations.

The first drill is also scheduled for Monday between 2 and 5 p. m. Two sessions daily will be in order for the first week, with attention centered primarily on conditioning and fundamentals, Coach Bonifas said.

The first game is scheduled for Aug. 30, and state high school regulations provide that each player in that game must have three weeks of practice. It is imperative, Bonifas said, that all boys interested in football report for opening practice sessions.

Reverse Order Start For State Fair Races

A reverse-order-rolling start will be used in the big car auto races scheduled for Escanaba's fast half-mile dirt track during the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 20, according to an announcement made by Jim Mullins, New York City, N. Y., International Motor Contest Association official.

Escanaba's race meet will be sanctioned by the IMCA and points won by drivers will go toward the circuit's national championship, Mullins added.

He explained that in reverse-order-rolling start the faster cars are handicapped. For example, in a heat race the slowest qualified car in the event will be on pole position of the first row at the start. The fastest car will be on the outside of the last row.

"This type of start prevents a heavy footed driver in a fast car from taking the front position at the start and staying there to make a cake-walk out of any race. Fast drivers in fast cars must weed through a lot of traffic under this type handicap if they want to cross the finish line first," the racing official said.

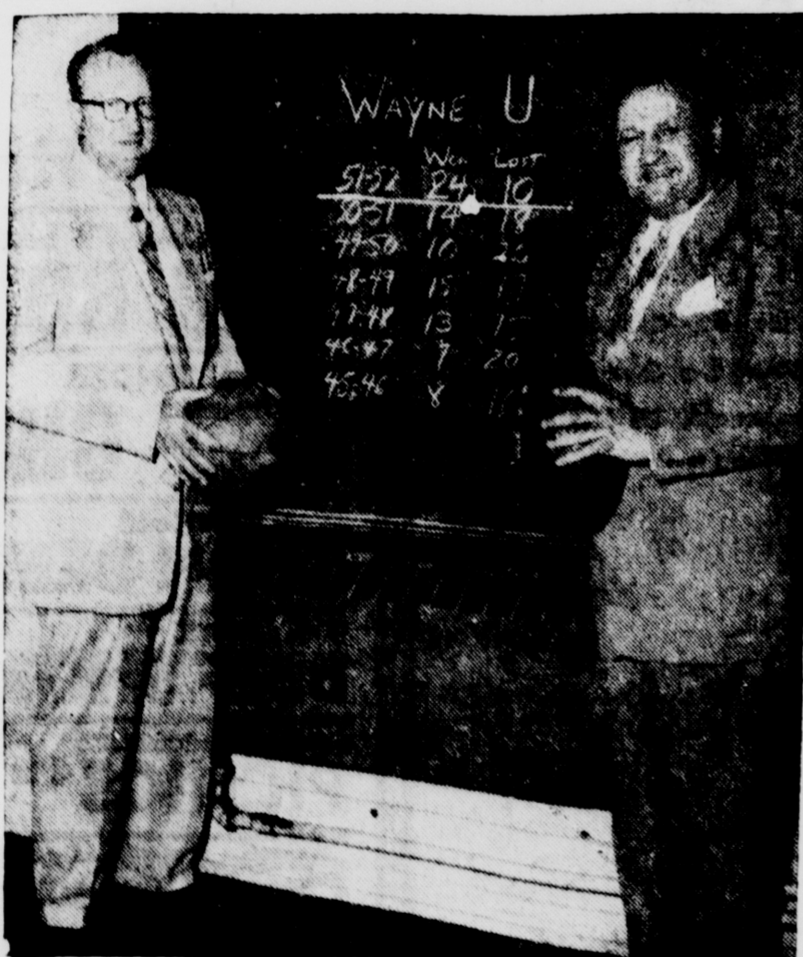

Reverse starts will be used for five of the six racing events. Starting positions for the feature race will be according to time trials. The fastest qualifier on the pole and so on back.

Among early entries are Mack McHenry, Wichita, Kan., in the Les King Offenhausser; Paul Craver, Chicago, Ill., in the Merle Heath Offenhausser; Billy Richardson, Des Moines, Ia., on the Abbot GMC special; Lowell Blume, Linton, Ind., in a Studebaker; Fritz Tregtmeyer, Elgin, Ill., "Flying Dutchman" in a new Miller-Rocket; Bob Grab, Madison, Wis., in a new Ford; and many others.

Qualifying time trials start at 1:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time on race day. The first race gets the green flag at 2:30 p. m.

World Golf Meet Under Way Today

CHICAGO — (P)—Golf's big-gest gold rush is on today.

With $90,000 at stake, 80 men pros and 11 play-for-pay gals start swinging in the "world championship of golf" at Tam O'Shanter course for unprecedented prizes.

Promoter George S. May's

"World" meet also has amateur competition for men and women in a sort of four-ringed circus, but the pro showdown for a $25,000 men's first prize and $5,000 women's top grab hogged the spotlight.

For a cold cash layout, there has never been anything like this 72-hole medal-play event ending Sunday.

Hogan Not Entered

The previous high playoff for any pro event was the $12,500 may gave Ben Hogan for winning last year's "World." Now that purse has been doubled.

Hogan, apparently miffed over May's refusal to toss in some appearance money, won't defend his title.

If last week's curtain-raiser to the World, May's all-American tourney means anything, Samuel Snead is the man to whip for the $25,000 pot.

Snead strolled off with the all-American with a 17-under-par 271, eight strokes ahead of the field, thus padding his bank account by $3,400.

The Babe Returns

But chasing him will be a select crowd, including 24 players who broke 288-par in the all-American scramble.

In the women's pro section, defending champion Babe Zaharias is making her first competitive try since an early June hernia operation. Her chief rival appears to be Louise Suggs, who won the $1,000 first prize in the all-American women's open.

All-American champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo defends his world's amateur crown.

Brinke Is New Senior Champ

DETROIT—(P)—Detroit's Chris Brinke is the new Michigan seniors golf champion and he set an all-time scoring record to win the crown.

Brinke won the championship yesterday making his first start in the two-day 36-hole tournament. He turned in a card of three-over-par 142 with a 73 Tuesday and a final 18 holes of 69 yesterday.

Joe Osplack of Plum Hollow was three strokes behind in second place with 67-71-145.

The previous low for the tournament was a 146 set by C. J. Farley of Grand Rapids in 1948 and matched by the same golfer the following year.

Deadlocked at 150 in third place were W. S. Clark of Lochmoor, William Lashbrook of Washtenaw and J. J. Cheviron of the Detroit golf club, the scene of this year's tournament for golfers over 50.

Brinke reached his 50th year on March 5 to become eligible for the tourney.

More Than 'Seven Wonders' In U. P.

MARQUETTE, Mich.—Just like the expanding tourist trade, there are more than "seven wonders" to be found in the Upper Peninsula today.

And the U. P. Development Bureau, whose job it is to promote these appeals for the further development of the resort industry, believes that the interest of local residents will bring about still further enlargement of man-made "wonders."

Back in the 30's, the Development Bureau listed the world-famous Sault Ste. Marie locks, Pictured Rocks, Kitch-iti-kipi Spring, Lake of the Clouds and Porcupine Mountains, Brockway Mountain Drive in the Copper Country, Old Fort Mackinac on Mackinac Island, and Tahquamenon Falls as the "seven wonders of Upper Michigan."

All received considerable publicity as a result, with pictures and stories of each being circulated in larger magazines and newspapers.

Added to this list today could be the following:

The Arcadian mine at Hancock—the only copper mine in the world open for public inspection. Pine Mountain ski scaffold—a 156-foot high structure that is the largest artificial ski slide in the world.

Almost as imposing, and equally wondrous to visitors, are such man-made structures as mine shaft houses in the Copper Country and on the Marquette, Menominee and Gogebic Ranges, ore docks at Marquette and Escanaba, and the Suicide Hill Ski scaffold between Ishpeming and Negaunee.

The hepatica, a wildflower growing from Florida to Nova Scotia, received its name from the Greek "hepar," meaning liver. It was once thought the plant could cure liver diseases, and it is also called "liverleaf" and "liverwort."

Ex-Actress 'Miscast' In Alcoholic Role

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — Judge Wilbur F. Downs, who recently celebrated his 25th year as a Long Beach municipal court jurist, says a lot of strange cases have appeared before his bench.

For instance, says the judge, there was a former Broadway actress turned alcoholic. After appearing on drunk charges a dozen times she was treated at a sanitarium and released as cured.

Almost a year later, said the jurist, she appeared again bed-ragged and bleary-eyed. It seems she had been screen-tested for a skid-row drunk part in a movie but the director decided she was completely miscast.
